ALUMNI ASSOCIATION ANNUAL DUES — $2.00

THE DIAMONDBACK

For the purpose of giving the alumni a review of the year's activities at the University, the final edition of The Diamondback has been sent to you. To do this, it was necessary, because of the additional cost involved, to omit the June issue of the ALUMNI NEWS.

We would like to know whether this appeals to you, and to know if it should be repeated next year. Any comments will be gratefully appreciated.

The Response To the Roll Call

The names of the alumni who have responded to the roll call for dues for the ensuing year, 1932-33, will be printed in the next issue of the ALUMNI NEWS. The date of July 15 has been chosen as the zero date to get your name in the first printing of the list. Therefore, rush your check in now to the treasurer, T. B. Symons, as your support for the association to function efficiently in furthering the development and progress of the University during the coming year.

Dunbar, '03, Comes Far

Emmons C. Dunbar, '03, M. S. '14, star football player and captain of the team in '02 and '03, has the distinction of being the alumnus to come the longest distance for the reunion. He is in the milling business in Little Valley, New York. He spent several days here on the campus looking over the new improvements and seeing many of his old friends.

W. H. Dunbar, his son, is now attending the University in the College of Agriculture. He is a member of the class of '33.

Robert C. Simmons, class of '29, of Takoma Park, D. C., was graduated on May 17, 1932, from the Union Theological Seminary of New York City. His ordination will be in the Takoma Park Presbyterian Church sometime the latter part of June.

Portrait of Dr. Albert F. Woods Presented To University At Alumni Reunion June 4

At the annual alumni luncheon, June 4, an oil-painted portrait of former president Dr. Albert F. Woods was presented to the University by John Myers, of Westminster, Maryland, the artist. Dr. H. J. Patterson, dean of the College of Agriculture, and one who has done much toward the development of the institution since the early nineties, made the presentation address in behalf of the artist. Miss Eleanor Myers, twin sister of the artist, unveiled the portrait. John Myers is a graduate of the Maryland Institute of Art of Baltimore and while only 21 years old has gained noteworthy distinction. His paintings won for him a scholarship to study abroad. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Myers, of Westminster, Maryland.

Dr. Albert F. Woods

Dr. Patterson in his remarks spoke of Dr. Woods as one "who came from a line of ancestors who were empire and character builders. He got his inspiration not only from an exceptionally high type of parents and the environment of the great Middle West, but also from one of America's great science teachers in one of our great universities in the State of Nebraska. He is endowed with the faculty of inspiring others to unselfish service."

Hon. S. M. Shoemaker, chairman of the Board of Regents, accepted the portrait in behalf of the University. The following are his remarks:

"I believe it is my privilege to accept this splendid portrait, and I can't help wondering if our young artist friend, Mr. John Myers, realized how well he was treating himself, as well as the University of Maryland, when he selected the subject for this portrait. The subject had already established his reputation before he came to Maryland. I recall Dr. Welch, himself, reprimanding us for our willingness to make an executive of a man who had shown such marked ability in the research world.

"This Land-Grant College of a few years back is now a very important part of a full-fledged State University. And it is certainly due to Dr. Woods and his sterling qualities more than to any other man or men that this was accomplished. I only wish I could properly express the appreciation of the University and our gratitude to this young artist for presenting us with this splendid portrait of Dr. Albert F. Woods."

Dr. Woods, in responding to the honor, concluded by saying:

"You honor me as the first one to hang here. I am proud to be the first one on this campus. There are some fine old pictures on the other campus, (Baltimore). I want you to remember the men who have worked for more than a century to build this institution, here and at the other end—men who have done much more than I had ever hoped to do to lay the foundations for a great university. Most of them have gone, except in remembrance. Some of them are here. My dear friends, they should hang along with me, 'the best is yet to be, the last for which the first was made'—with apologies to Browning."

The newlyweds will reside in Newark, N. J., following their honeymoon to Ocean City, Md.

OLD LINE ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

By W. H. ("Bill") HOTTEL

Maryland Beaten In Olympic Final

Maryland's lacrosse team lost what was termed the greatest game ever played in the Indian pastime when it dropped the Olympic series final to Johns Hopkins in Baltimore on June 25 by a 7 to 5 score. Hopkins' team, incidentally, is rated as the finest ever developed in this country.

Maryland led 3 to 2 at the end of the first half and it was a sensational battle all the way. Hopkins simply had too many big lacrosse guns for Maryland to spike.

Maryland and Hopkins were among the eight teams selected for the play-off series, the preliminary games in which resulted as follows:

First round: At New York—Rutgers, 10; Syracuse, 2; Crescent A. C., 4; Six Nations Indians, 2. At Baltimore—Maryland, 9; Mount Washington, 0; Hopkins, 5; St. John's, 3.

Semifinals: At Baltimore—Maryland, 5; Rutgers, 4; Hopkins, 10; Crescent A. C., 2.

The Old Liners were too fast and had too much stamina for the Mount Washington Club men, but great goal keeping by Chase, of Rutgers, made the semifinal game as tough a job as any team would want to handle. Maryland had 51 shots to Rutgers' 11, but Chase gave as great an exhibition of stopping the ball as any goalie ever did. But for him, Rutgers would have been outclassed.

During the regular season Maryland won all its games except that with Hopkins, in which it was beaten, 7 to 3. Hopkins was brilliant against Maryland while the Old Liners played below their standard.

BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. McCeney are the proud parents of a daughter born April 20, 1932, at the Garfield Hospital in Washington, D. C., weight eight pounds. Her christened name is Elizabeth Ann. Mr. and Mrs. McCeney also have a son, Robert, Jr., who is two and one-half years old.

Mrs. McCeney was formerly Miss Ruth Arrington, of Claremont, Virginia. Mr. McCeney, better known by his schoolmates of the early twenties as "Irish," is now in the nursery business near Silver Spring, Maryland, where the McCeneys also reside.

Assisting Jack Faber

Ivan Marty, '24, is assisting Jack Faber, as chief defense coach of the lacrosse team. Marty is probably the greatest defensive player Maryland has ever had. He has been coaching the defensive for several years and it has been performing exceptionally well under his tutelage.

Marty played on the Old Line twelve in 1924 and 1925 that defeated Hopkins both those years and as a graduate student was captain in the latter season. He was selected as an all-time all-America player. He played point.

Marty came from Roland Park, Baltimore, Maryland. He is now farm manager for a large estate in Baltimore County and comes daily to College Park to do his coaching.

1932 Maryland-Navy Grid Game Goes To Baltimore

Maryland's 1932 football schedule, completed a long time ago, except for the places of playing a couple of the contests, has been definitely set in all particulars.

It has been decided by the Naval Academy, which had the choice of the site, that the Middy-Old Line tilt be staged in Baltimore on November 12. This means that the Maryland-Vanderbilt clash, slated for November 5, will be decided in Washington.

The definite schedule:

September 24—Washington College, at College Park.
October 1—Virginia, at Charlottesville.
October 8—Virginia Poly, at College Park.
October 15—Duke, at Durham.
October 22—St. John's of Annapolis, at College Park.
November 5—Vanderbilt, at Washington.
November 12—Navy, at Baltimore Stadium.
November 19—Washington and Lee, at Lexington.
November 26—Johns Hopkins, at Baltimore Stadium.
November 30—Western Maryland, at Baltimore Stadium.

Old Line Sprinter Proves Sensation

Maryland has produced the sprint sensation of the East and South this year in Earl Widmyer, a freshman, who has qualified for the final Olympic tryouts to be held on the Pacific Coast on July 16 and 17.

Widmyer earned a place in the final tests by running second to Emmett Toppino, the favorite, to win the 100-meter event in the Olympics, at the Eastern A. A. U. tryouts in Boston on May 16 and 17. Toppino beat Widmyer by half a stride in the world-record time of 10.4 seconds.

The Old Line yearling won his heat and semifinal race the day previous to the final. In the heat were Robert Roy and John Edwards, two of New England's best sprinters, and in the semifinal he was in front of Ira Singer, Millrose A. A. ace and a consistent winner; R. D. Wheeler, of Springfield College; R. Stirling, of Morgan College, and G. K. MacKenzie, former Navy runner.

During the regular season Widmyer won all his 16 sprint events, taking both the 50-yard indoor and the 100-meter outdoor District A. A. U. championships among his victories. In all, he scored 94 points during the season for the freshman team.

Widmyer hails from Hagerstown, Md., and was a football and track star there as a pupil of Eddie Semler, former Old Line athlete.

ALUMNI REUNION HAS LARGE RETURN

mons, '02, gave a very comprehensive report and discussion of the year's accomplishments, including the ALUMNI NEWS, mailing list, paid-up membership, alumni board meetings, group meetings, the Alumni Fund, endowment committee and the financial statement.

The ALUMNI NEWS, which is issued monthly, began in 1930 and is reported to have increased to where a total of 28,800 copies has been sent to the alumni during the past year. The mailing list has increased to approximately 2,400 names. Constant effort has been made to keep the list up to date and correct. The alumni are urged to notify the office immediately of a change of address. It was reported that during the past year the total paid-up membership showed a decrease. It was felt that the economic condition was one cause, yet every alumnus should realize that the association's sole support is derived from dues and that $2.00 is a nominal sum to expect from every alumnus. The treasurer's report showed a previous balance of $2,508.38, with total disbursements of $1,633.53, leaving a balance of $674.85 on June 1, 1932. Of the total, $546.91 has been deposited in the savings account and $91.00 is credited to the Alumni Fund. The heavy disbursement was largely due to the expenses incurred by the Grand Reunion last year.

The Alumni Directory was reported to be in progress and is expected to be completed this year.

During the meeting C. Walter Cole, '21, and president of the class, presented the treasurer of the association with a check for $100.00 as the class contribution to the Alumni Fund.

Remarks were heard from Melvin C. Hazen, and Dr. L. B. Johnson, both of the class of '88 and members of the baseball team of that time, which is the oldest athletic team of which there is a photographic record.

H. C. (Curley) Byrd, '08, director of athletics, gave interesting remarks regarding the improved athletic facilities of the institution, for both men and women, that have been realized during the past year. He also pointed out the program for the developing of physical education in an effort to reach practically the entire student body.

The nominating committee, of which N. L. Warren, Jr., '08, was chairman, in submitting its report suggested that all officers be reelected for the ensuing year. For the Alumni Board, Chas. W. Sylvester, '08, College of Education, and H. B. Derrick, '17, College of Agriculture, were nominated to fill the expired term of D. J. Howard and Kenneth Grace. The report was adopted unanimously.

Under miscellaneous business, the possibility of life insurance for members of the association was suggested and a committee was to be appointed by the chair to study the matter. It was also suggested that committees be appointed on endowments, and one on continued education for alumni. The Traditional Memorial project was reported by the secretary-treasurer, but a full discussion was deferred in the absence of President Tydings who sponsored the idea.

Reports were had from representatives of various organized groups and classes. Wellstood White, '05, reported for the Old Line Club of Washington, D. C., N. L. Warren, Jr., '08, for Philadelphia, and C. E. Fuller, '96, for Cumberland group.

Immediately following the meeting the alumni luncheon was held in the University dining-hall with nearly 300 alumni, faculty, and friends present. At the luncheon an oil-painted portrait of former president Dr. Albert F. Woods was presented to the University by John Myers, the artist. Dr. H. J. Patterson, dean of the Agricultural College, made the presentation address in behalf of the artist and Hon. S. M. Shoemaker, chairman of the Board of Regents accepted in behalf of the University. Dr. Woods responded to the honor. President R. A. Pearson then made his welcoming address to the returning alumni. Hon. E. Brooke Lee, a member of the Board of Regents, gave a very interesting talk on the plans for the present and future development of the University. Remarks were also had from Dr. William H. Welch, dean emeritus of the School of Hygiene of the Johns Hopkins University.

Following the luncheon, reunions were had by the various classes, with the classes of '92, '07, '12, and '22 taking the lead in special reunions for their 40th, 25th, 20th, and 10th-year anniversaries, respectively. The classes of '92, '07, and '12 each dedicated a tree near the site of the old Barrack in which they lived as students, as their part of a perpetual memorial to the class and the location of the Barracks, the first building of the College Park School of the University. This building was destroyed by fire in 1912.

The alumni then attended the commencement exercises of the Baltimore and College Park classes, in the Ritchie Coliseum.

The alumni supper dance in the University Dining-Hall began at 7:00 P. M., as the final function of the day, with some hundred or more alumni and faculty attending.

The following were among those to return for the reunion:

Warthen, '08, Superintends Constructing Great Temple

Carroll C. Warthen, '08, a graduate in civil engineering, was the superintendent of construction of the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Temple dedicated May 12, 1932. He probably has been the busiest man in Virginia from the time ground was broken 10 years ago, in order to be ready for the Bicentennial dedication.

Shortly after the contract for the construction of the $5,000,000 temple was awarded to the Percy Cranford Company, of Washington, Warthen was selected as construction superintendent. Many other company assisted in building the great temple.

Alumni Respond To Call For Dues

Classes Of '75 And '80 Have Honor Of Being 100% Paid. Other Classes Need Support

PERHAPS the most important problem which the Alumni Association faces is the one of financing its activities. This problem is never thoroughly solved; for, as the association grows in size, usefulness, and activities, there is consequently an increase in expenses more rapidly than in the income. Therefore, the alumni are being solicited and urgently requested to pay their dues which are the sole support of the association.

The Association made two early calls upon its members for dues for the year '32-'33 and the treasurer, Dr. T. B. Symons, '02, reports that a splendid return has been recorded, as you will notice by the accompanying names. It is, however, necessary that the generous response continue if the association is to carry out its extensive program for rendering assistance to students, alumni, and the University.

The names published in this issue are those who sent in their dues prior to July 16; those received since then will appear in the next issue. The NEWS will continue to publish each month the names of alumni who have paid dues in the association.

By a review of the following list, your attention is called to the fact that the classes of '75 and '80 are the leaders, with 100% paid-up members; of classes from '90 to '00, inclusive, the classes of '92, '93, and '96 are sharing honors in the percentage of living members paid, but '96 has the lead in total paid members; of classes from '01 to '10, inclusive, the classes of '04, '06, and '08 are running close in percentage, but '08 leads with the total of paid members; from '11 to '20, inclusive, the class of '15 holds the lead. Of the last 10 classes, '22 and '24 take the honors in percentage, but '24 leads in total members paid, as well as total paid members for all classes.

If you have not sent in your dues, do so at once and help boost the average of your class or make it 100% paid.

The following paid by July 16:

Allen, H. H., '10, Towson, Md

OLD LINE ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

By W. H. ("Bill") HOTTEL

Moulding Gridiron Team Offers Task

Only Three Regulars Are Left From Great 1931 Eleven—Line To Give Most Worry

Curley Byrd and his aides are going to have their hands full to turn out a football team this fall that will end its schedule of 11 games with a good record. But, it is safe to say, that the best will be got out of the material and a lot of fine football will be displayed.

Maryland rose to great heights last season, but the 1931 Old Line machine that lost only one of its ten games—that with Vanderbilt—has been pretty well riddled by graduation, 11 of the 17 letter-men having finished their collegiate careers.

Included in the 11 to be lost were eight regulars, six of them in the line and two in the backfield. Among them were Jack Norris and Al Pease, ends; Jess Krajcovic, guard; Ernie Carliss, tackle, and Shorty Chalmers and Bozie Berger, backs, six as fine gridmen as ever wore the old Gold and Black. Chalmers was rated the best passer in the South last year and was an all-around kicker of great ability.

Line Is Main Worry

It is the line that will offer the greatest problem for Byrd, vice-president of the University, who coaches football as about his only means of getting any recreation at all.

With Ray Poppelman, one of the greatest ball carriers of the 1931 season; Al Woods, a high-class interfering and defensive back; Paul Kiernan, another fleet ball-toter; Bucky Buscher, and Norwood Sothoron, 1931 reserves, and Earl Widmyer and Dick Nelson, from the 1931 freshman outfit, he has good men around whom to build an offense.

Widmyer, incidentally, probably will be the fastest man playing football next fall, as he has run the 100 meters in 10.5 and was beaten only a half-step by Emmett Toppino when the latter won the Olympic test at Boston in June in 10.4.

Nelson is a passer and kicker of ability, while Buscher and Poppelman also will be counted upon to do some of the heaving.

Keenan Only Line Veteran

But it is finding a line to give the backs a chance to display their prowess that is the big task. Ted Keenan, a tackle, is the only regular left for the forward wall, and Tom Duley, who plays either tackle or guard, is the only other remaining lineman who won a letter in 1931.

Vaul Rouzer, a guard; Al Farrell, a tackle; Tom Webb, center, and John McDonald, an end, are the leading line prospects to come up from the 1931 yearling squad. Both Rouzer and Farrell weigh more than 200 pounds and are active with it. Webb will go above 175.

Two Backs Who May Aid

Pewee Walker, who was not eligible last fall, and George Hockensmith, who took "time out" last season, due to the exacting engineering course he is taking, are backs who also should prove of value.

Several of the others on the 1931 freshman team, including several linemen and backs, may develop into valuable assets before the 1932 campaign is over. Don DeVeau, end; Adam Penrod, guard, and Joe Crecca, Eugene Colella, and Harold Burns, backs, showed promise as yearlings and some of them, at least, should eventually produce.

Squad Will Be Small

However, Maryland will have a comparatively small squad, for if all of the 1931 leftovers from the Varsity aggregation and all the yearlings who will be invited to report on Labor Day turn out, the total will be below 40. It is more than likely that the number will be around 35.

Faber To Return In Fall

Parker (Skip) Faber, center on last year's eleven and in-home on the lacrosse team, has decided to return to school in the fall to work for his master's degree. He has had his fling at football and lacrosse, but still is eligible for another year each of basket-ball and baseball at which he is proficient.

Berger Making Bid For Job In Majors

Louis W. (Bozie) Berger, '32, who for three years was one of Maryland's best all-around athletes, being a star in basket-ball, football and baseball, now is a member of the Cleveland Indian squad of the American League.

Berger, who played third base for the Old Liners, is a shortstop prospect for the Cleveland team, and instead of farming him out to some minor league club for development, the Indians are carrying him on their roster to teach him the finer points of the game from the bench.

Berger is traveling with the club and is likely to get into some games before the season is ended.

Burton Shipley, his coach at Maryland, is confident that he eventually will prove of big-league caliber.

Football Coaching Staff Is Unchanged

Fenwick Is Due To Return As Chief Assistant—Faber To Again Handle Freshmen

No changes are anticipated in Maryland's football coaching staff this fall.

Curley Byrd, of course, will direct the team's destinies and the chances are that Charlie Fenwick, his capable and popular chief aide, will be back again.

Fenwick has a difficult time in getting away from his business pursuits in Washington, but he is so fond of football in general, and Maryland in particular, that he makes the grade some way.

Jack Faber will again be in charge of the freshmen gridders, with Al Heagy as his helper.

Mike Stevens, who aided part of last season, also may possibly join in the work with the Old Line gridmen in some capacity. There is no certainty about this, though.

"Hock" To Be Bigger, Better

George Hockensmith, lacrosse and football player, who was retarded by throat trouble during the 1931-32 seasons, has had his tonsils removed and hopes to be bigger and better for the 1932-33 campaigns in his two sports.

WARTHEN, '08, SUPERINTENDS CONSTRUCTING GREAT TEMPLE

He first took up his duties when ground was broken June 5, 1922.

Warthen has been actively engaged in engineering work ever since graduation. He was born and raised in Montgomery County, Maryland, and is a brother of Nathan R. Warthen, of '12. He married Miss Clara Lillian Harrison, of Baltimore, Md. They are now living at 3219 17th St., N. E., Washington, D. C.

PERSONAL

Raymond Carrington, '28, who has been studying art in Washington for the past two years, upon graduation from the Livingstone Academy of Arts and Sciences, of that city, was awarded the prize for the outstanding work of the year.

Last fall, Carrington entered the Corcoran School of Art to further his studies toward portrait painting and during the winter won a prize of $25 in a poster contest conducted by the school.

He and Mrs. Carrington, formerly Mildred Hislop, of the class of '29, are living at 2124 Eye Street. Ray is on the staff of the Extension Service of the University.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT SUMMER SCHOOL

Of the other 228, 70 of them are scattered over 20 states and 158 come from the District of Columbia.

While a majority of those registered are teachers, many of them are students either making up credits to obtain degrees or taking advanced work.

Dr. Willard S. Small, dean of the College of Education, is the director of the Summer School.

HOMECOMING DAY OCTOBER 8

V. P. I. Grid Battle To Be Homecoming

One Of Maryland's Oldest Rivals Will Be Met On October 8 At College Park

IT has been definitely decided to make the football game with Virginia Poly on October 8 the 1932 Homecoming contest.

For a time it was undecided whether to play the game at Norfolk or College Park, but in view of the make-up of the schedule the tilt with the Blacksburgers was found to be the most appropriate for the annual return of the alumni.

It will be the Old Liners' first hard game at home, Virginia being played at Charlottesville on October 1 after the opening battle with Washington College is staged in Byrd Stadium on September 24.

Virginia Poly, one of Maryland's oldest rivals, will be the only Southern Conference team to visit College Park this fall, the other "home" clash with a Dixie organization foe being with Vanderbilt in Griffith Stadium in Washington on November 5.

However, it was thought more fitting to have Homecoming day with a game that actually will be staged on the campus.

Virginia Poly, with a changed coaching staff and a wealth of material, figures to have the best team it has boasted in many seasons, and confidently expects to halt Maryland's winning streak over the Gobblers that has given the Old Liners three wins in a row.

Maryland has played Virginia Poly annually in football since 1919 and had a game with the Blacksburgers as far back as 1897.

Details for the occasion will be sent old grads through the athletic office in due time and it is planned to have the next issue of the Alumni News out well in advance of the Homecoming contest to give the "low down" on the event.

However, it would be well for the alumni to bear the date in mind and make their plans early to be at College Park on October 8.

Edmond C. Mayo, '04, Man Of Industry

"IF YOU ARE FAIR"

Edmund Cooper Mayo, '04, a graduate of mechanical engineering from the College Park Schools of the University, has gained success as an eminent executive in the industrial field. He has progressed rapidly from the time he received his diploma and went to work as a machinist in the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. Today his title is president and general manager of the Gorham Mfg. Co., of Providence, Rhode Island, the largest maker of sterling silverware and, through its control of subsidiaries, a large producer of silver plate. But primarily he is a production man and a leader in that growing school of industrial thought which holds that the human element is the most important in management.

The Human Element

"Good factory buildings can be purchased or built," he will tell you with fire in his eye. "Money will provide excellent equipment. But the way that your plant functions has to depend on the efficiency and loyalty and spirit of the women and men who work in your buildings and operate

Tenth Year For Autumn Reunion

Homecoming Dance To Be Held In Gymnasium. "M" Club To Hold Annual Meeting

HOMECOMING, the 10th annual fall reunion of all former students, is expected to have the largest return in the history of the institution. As usual the feature attraction of the day will be the football game. This year one of Maryland's oldest rivals will be met in Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

In addition to the football game there will be other entertainment throughout the day. Physical-education games, soccer contests, freshmen-sophomore annual battle, and the Homecoming Dance.

Ritchie Coliseum

The Ritchie Coliseum will be the established headquarters for all activities of the day. Registration will begin at 10:00 A.M., at which time tickets will be on sale for the game. During the forenoon physical-education classes, in the nature of competitive games, will be held on the athletic practice field in the rear of the coliseum. Between 12:00 and 1:00 P.M., a buffet luncheon will be on sale in the coliseum for returning alumni.

At 1:00 P.M., the "M" Club will hold their annual meeting, at which time election of officers for the ensuing year will be held and subjects of importance and interest to all members will be discussed. A large attendance is desired and expected, according to the president, J. M. Burns, '11.

At 1:30 P.M., a soccer game will be played on the practice field between freshmen and sophomore teams.

Frosh-Soph Rush

The feature of the day will begin at 2:30 P.M., in the Byrd Stadium, when Maryland will meet one of its oldest and most liked rivals, Virginia Polytechnic Institute. Between the halves of the game there will be staged the annual freshman-sophomore rush. The winner of this clash will have their class numerals inscribed upon a mon-

Saul Praeger, Law, '11, Succumbs To Pneumonia

Saul Praeger, Law, '11, prominent attorney and politician of Cumberland, died August 9, 1932, at his home in Cumberland, following a long illness of pneumonia.

Following his graduation from the University Law School he became connected with the law offices of Newton D. Baker in Cleveland, Ohio. A year and a half later he opened his own law offices in Cumberland where he built a lucrative practice. There he entered the political field and placed his name among the prominent by the several good campaigns he conducted. He was a staunch Democrat. He was also very eminent in fraternal circles, having belonged to many orders. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Fannie M. Sharer, two brothers and four sisters.

Savage, '28, Wins Medical School Certificate Of Honor

John E. Savage, B. S., '28, M.D., '32, received a certificate of honor upon graduation from the Medical School, held at College Park, June 4 last. "Jack," as his classmates call him, was very active in many extra-curricular activities, both at College Park and in Baltimore, gaining for himself the recognition of leadership by being elected president of student government when at College Park, and president of his class in medical school. He is also a member of several fraternal organizations. His home is in Washington, D. C. At present he is doing his interne work at the University Hospital in Baltimore.

your machines. These are things that you can't purchase with money. Loyalty and efficiency are by-products of mental attitude, and the only coin that will buy them is justice from the executives and supervisors who deal with your people.

"Justice doesn't mean being soft. You can be firm, almost harsh—if you are fair. But your people will respond to fair treatment. They will do almost anything for a man who treats them fairly. And they will do no more than they absolutely have to for the man who isn't square."

Establishes Own Business

Three years after graduation, with some associates, he purchased a business and named it Mayo Iron Works, Inc. Since then he has been general manager, vice-president, and president of various manufacturing companies that have produced marine engines, fire alarms, locomotives, brass cartridge cases, steel hats, or sterling silver. And he has not only made good but left a trail of superior industrial management which is true evidence of his thesis that human nature is most important in business.

He believes that the greatest responsibility of any executive is the training of younger men. He has personally trained several young men in his organization who are good examples of his ideas as to how young men should be trained to carry on the work of his company. And it is significant that when a man has been trained by him, he just naturally gravitates into the manufacturing end of the business.

Playing Golf

One of the most important requisites of management, he claims, is that "the chief executive personally know the characteristics of his key men." He takes plenty of time keeping himself acquainted with the plant men and the plant. He makes personal tours daily through his plant and corrects things he has noticed through his works managers.

In spite of his executive tasks he finds time to indulge in favorite sports and pastimes. He is a lover of horses, having been born and raised in the South. He also plays golf. Many of his assistants do, also, but he enforces a rule that anybody in the Gorham Organization who consistently breaks 90 has to give up golf. The reason is typically Mayo. "When a man gets that good at it we can't let him keep it up. For then it takes too much of his time for playing and too much time for telling about it."

ument to be built by the student body for this purpose.

One half-hour following the game the University dining-hall will have available a private dining-room for the use of returning students and their friends when they may go and have dinner. Here all facilities for both men and women are available.

The annual Homecoming Dance will be held in the University Gymnasium, beginning at 9:00 P.M. A well-known orchestra will provide the music. Midnight will end the 10th and largest Homecoming Maryland has ever enjoyed.

Schrider, '25, Commended

Peter Paul Schrider, '25, a pilot in the United States Marine Flying Corps, was specially commended by the Board of Awards at the Navy Department for the part he played in battling irregulars in Nicaragua.

Pete, as he is better known, was a port-side baseball twirler of no little note. He entered the Marine Corps a year after graduation, in 1926. Recently he married Miss Mary Inez Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie E. Mann, of Pensacola, Fla. Their home address is 310 West Wright Street, Pensacola, Fla., where he is now instructor at the Naval Air Station.

Grid Squad Toiling for Hard Campaign

Football practice for the tough 11-game schedule that Maryland will play this fall is underway at College Park and there is a lot of work to be done to turn out an eleven that can cope creditably with the strenuous opposition.

Alumni must not expect to see a machine like that of last fall, but they can count upon the Old Liners, as they always do, to play interesting football. It is not necessary to say that the best is sure to be got out of the material at hand. Maryland doesn't have a hand-picked grid squad, but it always has a fine bunch of fellows and an eleven that enjoys the respect of all its rivals.

Losses Are Heavy

Maryland's task was made difficult by the graduation of eight of the 1931 regulars and was made harder by the decision of Tom Duley and Jerome Feldman, two of the leading line reserves of last season, not to return. Duley has a position and Feldman will enter medical school.

Charles Keenan, tackle, and Ray Poppelman and Al Woods, backs, are the three regulars remaining.

While there are 47 in the list of those invited to try for the team, very few of the aspirants have had any experience to speak of, many of them coming to Maryland without having played in high school.

Then, too, despite the fact that Val Rouzer and Al Farrell, two recruits from the 1931 freshman team, tip the scales at 235 and 218 pounds, respectively, there are comparatively few men of real weight on the squad, the 47 invited back averaging well under 170 pounds to the man.

Problems In Backfield

Despite the presence of Poppelman and Woods in the backfield there are many problems to solve in this department. There is no passer of Chalmers' ability and no pass snatcher of Berger's skill in evidence and both of these boys knew a lot about defense as well as attack.

However, it is the line that is the biggest worry and Charlie Fenwick, who is again handling the forwards, is likely to sweat off some of his surplus poundage in an effort to fill the many gaps.

After the tilt with Washington College on September 24, the sailing will be rough to the finish. And most of the teams Maryland will meet this year will be gunning for revenge.

College Park Schools Begin 72nd Session With More Than 700 New Students Enrolled

WITH the beginning of classes for the 1932-33 session on September 23, the University at College Park enrolled the largest freshman class in history. The enrollment well exceeded predictions as to registration for this year. Over 700 new students matriculated for the ensuing year.

President Holds Reception

Registration for freshmen was held September 20-21, during which time they were oriented into the routine and regulations of the institution, in addition to just registering. On Wednesday evening, September 21, President Raymond A. Pearson gave a reception to the new students in the University Gymnasium, at which time he made a brief talk of welcome and met each one personally.

Homecoming Day Game Is Eighteenth Between Schools, With Old Liners Trailing, 8 to 9

ALTHOUGH they have been meeting in football since 1897 and during their stretch of gridiron relationships have played a total of 17 games, Virginia Poly and Maryland will be meeting for the first time at College Park when they clash in the Homecoming Day tilt on October 8.

Most of the games since continuous relationships were established in 1919 have been played on neutral fields, five each in Washington and Norfolk, with the other three at Blacksburg, the home of the Gobblers.

This year, as the schedule happens to be arranged, Virginia Poly also will be the only Southern Conference rival to be met in Byrd Stadium at College Park, although, figuring those contests to be staged in Washington and Balti-

Freshman Class Largest In History

The upper classmen completed their registration on Thursday, September 22, and that evening a general student assembly was held in the Auditorium, at which time the new students were initiated into the ways of the student government. H. C. (Curley) Byrd, '08, vice-president of the University, and Professor Chas. S. Richardson, spoke at the assembly. Classes began Friday, Sept. 23, at 8:20 A. M., beginning the seventy-second scholastic term for the College Park Branch of the University.

Hazing Taboo

It may be interesting to the old grads to know that hazing of new students has been eliminated as a traditional habit at College Park; instead, an extensive and intensive program in intramural athletic competition has been inaugurated under the leadership of Dr. Leroy Mackert, '21, assisted by many junior and senior students. It is felt that this will give the freshmen a more favorable impression of college life and establish better fellowship in the student body.

Colonel John Skinner, Medical Alumnus, Dies

Lieut. Col. John Oscar Skinner, '87, Army Medical Corps, retired and former superintendent of Columbia Hospital, died September 12, 1932, at Saint Elizabeth Hospital in Washington, after a long illness.

He was born in Baltimore, May 4, 1845, and was a veteran of the Indian Wars. He attended the Sorbonne in Paris, took special courses at the University of Wurzburg, Germany; University of Vienna, Austria, and was a graduate of the Universities of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

He took part in many Indian Wars, and was presented the Congressional Medal of Honor in 1915 by President Wilson for services in the Modoc Indian War. He was superintendent of Columbia Hospital for 15 years before taking command of the United States Army Dispensary here during the World War.

He was a lineal descendant of Lieut. Col. John Jones, who sat at the court martial of Aaron Burr. He was a member of the Order of Indian Wars, Order of Carabao, American Legion, Optimist Club, and the National Press Club.

Interment was made in the Arlington National Cemetery.

Many Old Grads Watch Scrimmage With Marines

When the varsity football squad scrimmaged the Marines two weeks ago, it seemed something like a Homecoming by the number of old grads who turned out to see the boys perform. It was evidence of the amount of interest and enthusiasm the old grads have for the favorite collegiate sport.

Dr. John F. Moore, '23, better known as Piggy and an outstanding guard in his day; John Robinson, '24, a former track star as a half-miler; Kirkland Besley, '24, a former pigskin toter and director general of the team; John Reisinger, '24, now practicing law in Washington, D. C.; J. Edward Burroughs, '23, an attorney-at-law in Washington; Burton Middleton, '17; Don Adams, '28, an outstanding tackle in his day; Mike Stevens, '27, one of the cleverest-running backs ever to step on the barred field; Knocky Thomas, '28, a great half-back and also a member of the greatest relay team Maryland ever had; Diddle Heidelbach, '24, a former lacrosse star; Bill Ward, '16, a former lineman, and many other old grads, were on the side lines watching the first test of the really new team. It is actually a new team as eight regular men graduated last year. However, the old grads seemed somewhat optimistic about the prospects for the coming campaign. There was some good blocking, hard tackling, clever running, and forward-pass catching, that always makes the eyes of the old boys twinkle with gladness.

The same Curley Byrd in his familiar coaching togs and usual habit (pulling grass, etc.) was right behind his charges, correcting their errors. Once Curley said to one of his assistants, "Gee, don't bother them with too many corrections when they are going good." It looks like the returning grad will see plenty of thrilling action when the Old Liners and Gobblers clash in the feature of Homecoming Day.

OLD LINE ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

By W. H. ("Bill") HOTTEL

Old Liners Flashy And Scrappy Team

Cannot Hope To Match Great 1931 Eleven, But Will Play Lots Of Fine Football

When this was written, the Maryland football team was just about to open the 1932 campaign and Curley Byrd was scratching his head as to who would make up the starting eleven.

However, that game will be history and the one with Virginia at Charlottesville on October 1 may also have been played by the time this is read. But regardless of what kind of a showing was made in these games, followers of the Old Liners may count upon an eleven that will display a world of fight, much good football and a flashy attack when they visit College Park on October 8 for the Homecoming tilt with Virginia Poly.

Line Is Big Job

Building a line is the main problem for the Byrd eleven, but Charlie Fenwick, chief mentor of the forwards, is not at all discouraged, although his material is inexperienced, for he has some sizable aspirants who pack speed and grit. That is half the battle, in Fenwick's opinion.

Maryland has the kind of combination that will be greatly benefited by a couple of games, and those with Washington College and Virginia should serve to advance the Old Liners to a stage where they will be ready to "shoot the works" against Virginia Poly.

Maryland has a backfield that contains plenty of scoring dynamite with Ray Poppelman, Al Woods, Paul Kiernan, and Dick Nelson as the regular quartet, and Earl Widmyer, the 1931 sprinting sensation of the East and South; Norwood Sothoron, George Hockensmith, and Buckey Buscher as the chief reserves.

Some Speedy Boys

Poppelman, Woods, Kiernan, and Widmyer could form a relay team that would be hard to beat and anyone of them is likely to flash to a touchdown at any time. In fact, Widmyer doubtless is the fastest man playing football in the country this season.

Maryland lost too many 1931 stars—eight of its 11 regulars—to expect to be as good as the exceptional eleven of last year, but the Old Liners will present a scrappy lot who will be a pleasure to watch and who will provide many a thrill.

Capable Coach of Linemen

CHARLIE FENWICK

Has big task in rebulding forward wall that was wrecked by graduations last June, but if it can be done Charlie will do it. Charlie is a Virginia graduate and former Cavalier grid star and coach, but he is a thorough "Maryland man" now. This is his fifth season at Maryland. He likes his job and everyone likes Charlie. It is not necessary for him to get bigger, but he does get better each year.

Joseph Berger, '24, a lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps, is helping to coach the Quantico Marine football squad this season. Joe, himself, one of the greatest tackles ever to wear the Black and Gold, and in fact he was chosen a member of the all-time All-Maryland team, sometimes dons the gridiron togs and helps the team when the going gets rough. The Marine team is composed only of men stationed at the Quantico base.

Grid Visit Is First For Virginia Poly

more, the Old Liners actually have seven "home" tilts.

Games Usually Close

If past performances count for anything, and they are the only logical criterion, Virginia Poly and Maryland should provide a close, hard-fought game for the benefit of the old grads. In only two of their modern games has either team won by more than 16 points, and from 3 to 12 have been the usual margins.

In all, 17 games have been played, four prior to 1919 in which the teams broke even, and 13 since the modern series began. V. P. I. has won seven of these last 13 contests, but the Old Liners have taken the last three and will strive to make it four in a row and get on an even basis for the entire stretch at nine all.

However, Virginia Poly was celebrating Homecoming last fall when the Old Liners scored their most decisive win over the Gobblers at Blacksburg, the count being 20 to 0.

Homecoming Crowd Largest In History

J. M. Burns, '11, Elected President of "M" Club—Football Players of 1892 Present

THE largest gathering in the history of athletics attended the Homecoming game with V. P. I. Many former students and friends practically filled the seating capacity of the Byrd Stadium.

The old grads began to arrive by 10 A. M., registering at the Ritchie Coliseum where they met many former schoolmates and lived again the old days. The Trophy Room was given the review and memories became more vivid as they saw the faces of the members of the older teams.

Among those to return were: W. T.

Scholarship Established By University "M" Club

The annual "M" Club meeting was held in the Trophy Room of the Ritchie Coliseum, with the largest attendance in several years.

The club voted to establish one scholarship for a boy who would meet the following stipulated qualifications: " . . . for a male student chosen because of his all around development, academic worthwhileness and ambition combined with lack of ability to pay fixed expenses for an education."

This scholarship carries with it the payment of all fixed charges for four years. An endowment fund to meet the expenses of future scholarships, together with a contingent fund and a gate fund, was set aside. The actual building of the gate was deferred until such time as the athletic plant will have assumed its final form.

Triumph Over Navy Old Line Objective

Curley Byrd, In Rebuilding Eleven at Maryland, Looks To Baltimore Game

MARYLAND'S real football objective is Navy, which will be played in the Baltimore Stadium on November 12.

Curley Byrd, the Old Line coach, who is serving his 21st year at the helm at Maryland, this fall faced a task of rebuilding his team after losing eight of the regulars who comprised the great 1931 combination. He knew that the Old Liners would have to travel a rough road in the earlier games of the 1932 campaign and that it would be November before a team of any smoothness could be developed.

AN Aerial View of the State of Maryland, from an altitude of 20,000 feet above the Mason and Dixon line, was painted by Ray Carrington, '28. The painting, the largest of its kind in the state, is 30 feet in length and 9 feet high. It was used in the State Canners' exhibit, sponsored by the University Extension Service, at the Maryland State Fair.

Carrington has been studying art at the Corcoran School of Art in Washington and is also a member of the Extension Service staff at the University. His artistic ability received laudatory recognition in the House Beautiful cover-page picture contest. From 2,160 paintings submitted, only 100 were chosen and Carrington's painting was among them.

Alumni In North Carolina Get-together At Durham

Following the Maryland-Duke football game at Durham, N. C., the University alumni held a very enjoyable dinner and "get together" at the Washington-Duke Hotel. Some 50 or more alumni, their wives, sweethearts, and guests from all branches of the University were present for the occasion.

Dr. E. B. Howell, D.D.S., '08, M.D., '10, was toastmaster. The guest speaker of the evening was Dr. Alex. H. Paterson, one of the oldest members of the Dental School faculty. Others to make talks were Dr. Robert L. Felts, '98, an outstanding physician in Durham; Dr. L. B. Broughton, '08, a member of the Athletic Board of the University; Professor R. F. Ruffner, '08, chairman of the Southern group and the one who organized the "get together," and G. F. Pollock, assistant secretary of the Alumni Association. Each alumnus present was called upon to give his name, class, and present address.

Following the speaking, Mr. MacDonald, a real estate man from Raleigh, N. C., and a comedian, gave a humorous demonstration of the human spine using a banana stalk, stripped of its fruit, for the illustration. The sketch was a real treat.

Among the alumni present was one of Marylander's pioneer athletes, in the person of Dr. N. M. Gibbs, '96, captain of the football team of the Baltimore School in '96, and coach in '97.

The following is a roster of the alumni present:

Dr. Walter C. Ashworth, M. D., '92, Greensboro; Dr. E. H. Bowling, M. D., '91, Durham; Dr. F. R. Darkis, Chem., Durham; Mrs. Mildred Morris Darkis, '24, Durham; R. S. Dearstyne, B. Tilt With Hopkins Recalls Old Times

Blue Jays, With One of Best Teams In Many Years, Are Pointing for Thanksgiving Game

A real old-time, "dog eat dog" battle is promised when Maryland and Hopkins get together in their annual, traditional Thanksgiving Day battle in the Baltimore stadium.

Hopkins has the best football team that has represented it in many years, and, as usual, is pointing for the game with Maryland for which the Blue Jays always are keyed up to the highest pitch.

When this was written Hopkins had cleaned up with its first four games, having disposed of Washington College, St. John's, Lehigh, and Haverford, and Coach Ray Van Orman has a bigger and more experienced squad than usual with which to carry on.

Hopkins Sees Chance

By the time Hopkins and Maryland meet on turkey day both should be in a position to play well-developed football.

Hopkins and Maryland will be playing their 30th game when they clash on Thanksgiving Day, with the Old Liners having won 13, the Blue Jays 11, with five ending in deadlocks. Hopkins' last victory was back in 1927 when the Blue Jays won, 14 to 13, but few of the contests have lacked lustre. Hopkins, with a golden opportunity knocking at its door, is sure to make a real bid for this year.

Senor Don Luis Felipo Ganoza, '25, and Senorita Dona Rosa Marie Delfin, both of Trujillo, Peru, were married in August, 1932. "Louie," as he was called by his schoolmates, prepared at Tome Institute before entering Maryland. He came to the U. S. to secure an agricultural education that he might return to his country a specialist. This he accomplished.

The Ganozas are living at Trujillo, Peru.

Being compelled to give a certain time to the developing of a team, for the most part made up of sophomores and others of no great experience, Byrd has focused his efforts on having a well-geared combination on the field when the Midshipmen are met. In other words, he is pointing his Old Liners for the game with the Sailors.

The last two tilts between the Middies and the Old Liners have been classic battles. The Navy won the 1930 contest by a 6 to 0 score, played before a capacity crowd at Annapolis, a 90-yard run for a touchdown by Bullet Kirn in the first minute of the battle deciding the issue.

Last year, in Griffith Stadium in Washington, the Old Liners won by the same count, a sensational forward pass, after a triple pass, from Shorty Chalmers to Al Pease bringing the lone counter.

Both Possess Power

While both Navy and Maryland had their difficulties in their October games, both squads contain much latent power and both should be developed to a point where they should play about as good football on November 12 as they will show this season. In the last game before this was written Navy went up to Princeton and outclassed the Tigers, although the best that the Middies could get was a scoreless tie. Maryland, on the same day, came out of the doldrums by defeating St. John's, 24 to 7, and indicating that the team had reached a point where it was about to snap into a status that comes to a green squad only after it has been through a siege of games.

The meeting of the Middies and the Old Liners in the big Baltimore amphitheater is the outstanding football game of the State schedule and the only big contest of the season that the Navy will play in the Oriole City stadium.

Good Deal of Good Material On Fresh Grid Aggregation

Despite the fact that the Maryland freshman football team lost its first game to the Virginia yearlings, 6 to 0, Jack Faber and Al Heagy, the mentors of the young Terrapins, have a likely looking squad and are certain to send some fine prospects up to the 1933 Varsity aggregation.

A bad pass from center that rolled over the goal line to be recovered by a Cavalier for a touchdown cost the Old Line cubs the game played at Charlottesville.

However, the freshman squad contains more than the usual number of capable and sizeable athletes and main attention is being paid to the teaching of fundamentals that will be of value as Varsity men rather than winning games this year.

Old Liners' Record In State Is Clean

St. John's Second Within Borders To Be Beaten—Three Others Are Still On Schedule

Although Maryland won only two of its first five football games, it has a clean slate as far as State teams are concerned. Washington College was outclassed in the opening contest, 63 to 0, and on October 22 St. John's was disposed of, 24 to 7.

The meeting between the Old Liners and the Johnnies was the first since 1930 and the 29th gridiron contest between the two since they began their rivalry back in 1892. The victory gave Maryland the edge in the long series as the old foes went into the game with a record of 13 wins apiece and two ties.

St. John's Scrappy

Maryland's victory, although the Johnnies, under Todie Riggs, former Old Line athlete, put up a fighting game, was rather more one-sided than the score would indicate. Maryland got two quick touchdowns in the first period and then let up. It did the same thing in the third quarter after twice crossing the goal. When the Maryland attack put on pressure it appeared to have a lot of potency.

Maryland's other games with teams within the State, however, are certain to be more difficult. Navy, Johns Hopkins, and Western Maryland, are to be met in order on November 12, Thanksgiving Day, and December 3, all in the Baltimore stadium.

Navy and Hopkins are dealt with elsewhere, but it would not be amiss to mention here that Western Maryland is building its whole campaign with the object of getting revenge for the 41 to 7 shiner the Old Liners hung on the Terrors last season.

Western Maryland's best effort in 1932 up to the time this was written was a surprising 12 to 6 victory over Georgetown in Washington on October 22.

Tennis Due For Boom With Les Bopst At Helm

Tennis is destined to take a higher place at Maryland the coming season with Les Bopst, an alumnus who is associate State chemist, taking charge of the pastime.

New interest has been aroused in the game with the completion of 20 new courts and there apparently is enough talent on hand to turn out a formidable team. In fact, there are three players available for the squad who are superior to the No. 1 ranking netman of last year's combination.

Bopst, who played a good game of tennis, is keenly interested in everything Maryland does.

S. (Dummy) Rollins, '96, and Clifton E. Fuller, '96, both members of the first football team to make history at Maryland, 1892. However, it is recorded that a sophomore named Hoblitzell brought football to the campus two years before. This was in 1890, but a regular schedule was not played until 1892. Dr. W. W. Skinner, '95, now a member of the Board of Regents, was a member of that team.

The oldest alumnus present at the reunion was J. B. Gray, '75, of Prince Frederick. With him was his son, J. B. Gray, Jr., '14, and grandsons, "who are future Marylanders," he said. J. B. Gray, Jr., '14, was formerly president of the "M" Club. He is now assistant attorney-general, and his duties are with the State Roads Commission. Dr. A. F. Woods, former president of the University, registered with the returning grads, many of whom he knew.

While the men were assembling in the Coliseum, the alumnae were swopping stories at the Practice House near Margaret Brent Hall, where the College of Home Economics was entertaining.

The day's registration follows this article. At 12 noon, luncheon was served in the Ritchie Coliseum after which the Annual "M" Club meeting was held in the Trophy Room, J. M. Burns, '11, president, presiding.

The feature of the day, the football game between Maryland and V. P. I., began at 2.30 P. M., in Byrd Stadium. Maryland's fleetest halfback, Earl Widmyer, was knocked out in the second play and Maryland's speed threat was gone.

Distinguished alumni were among the ardent rooters in the persons of Senator M. E. Tydings, '10, president of the Alumni Association; Hon. W. P. Cole, Jr., '10, member of the Board of Regents, and Dr. Frank B. Bomberger, of the Federal Farm Board. Senator Tydings and Dr. Bomberger seldom miss a game if Maryland is playing within reach.

Following the game the alumni scattered to the various fraternity and sorority houses and the University Dining-Hall where they had dinner and then made ready for the colorful and gay Homecoming Dance in the Ritchie Coliseum. Here they mingled with students and faculty to absorb the present-day collegiate atmosphere. Favors and noise-makers, streamers and confetti added much to the annual reunion.

Because of the failure of many to register, an accurate list of the alumni present cannot be given. However, the following were among those present:

1875, John B. Gray, Sr.; '83, R. B. B. Chew; '93, John N. Morris; '94, F. B. Bomberger; '96, Clifton E. Fuller, Mahlon N. Haines, W. R. Rollins; '98, J. Hanson Mitchell; 1900, W. D. The editor of the Alumni News has asked me to appear before our readers in the role of an adventurer. I have hesitated long to do this thing, for one is so apt to be initiated into the Ananias Club by a critical public, and particularly in this case, by some of those "worthies" who sat under the shade of the trees on College Hill back in the early part of the first of this present century.

But when I remember that since November 5, 1913, up to March 24, 1931, I have encircled the globe three times, over what is now the greatest of our modern trade routes, then I suppose it would be expected that—

OUR ALUMNI IN CONGRESS

Cole, Jr., '10; Tydings, '10; Gambrill, '92.

Millard E. Tydings, '10, president of our Alumni Association, was reelected in the Democratic landslide this fall, to the United States Senate by the largest majority (150,000) any political candidate has received in the history of the State. Tydings has also served in the State Legislature and House of Representatives.

Stephen W. Gambrill, '92, was reelected this fall to the U. S. House of Representatives, for the 5th consecutive time. He was first elected to the 68th Congress in 1925 to fill the vacancy left by the death of the late Sydney E. Mudd.

William P. Cole, Jr., '10, now member of the Board of Regents, was reelected this fall for his third term in the U. S. House of Representatives. He previously served in the 70th Congress, was defeated for the 71st Congress in 1928, but was returned in the next election, 1930, to the 72nd Congress.

Mr. Heintz played football four years at the University and was a major in the R. O. T. C. his last year. Mrs. Heintz was formerly in training at Emergency Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Heintz are at home at 406 Warren Ave., Aurora Hills, Va. Mr. Heintz is in business with his father.

Only Eight On Football Squad Will Be Graduated

Unless there are scholastic casualties, and there are sure to be a number of them, Maryland will have 21 of the 29 men from the Varsity football squad and 28 recruits from a fairly capable freshman aggregation to depend upon next. However, out of this total of 49, the chances are that 40, at the most, will be on hand by the time the next grid campaign rolls around.

Maryland will lose by graduation: Wood, end; Keenan and Cole, tackles; Mitchell, guard; and Poppelman, Woods, Kiernan, and Stieber, backs. Mitchell, Woods, and Poppleman were regulars this fall, Keenan and Cole shared the right-tackle job, Kiernan divided the right-halfback duties with Widmyer, but Stieber saw very little action.

Benner, Hines, Vincent, DeVeau, Hay, and Rittenhouse, ends; Farrell, McCaw, Mattehke, and Silber, tackles; Rouzer, MacDonald, and Simpson, guards; Webb and Goldman, centers, and Nelson, Widmyer, Sothoron, Buscher, Widmyer, and Crecca, backs, are the others due to be back next September.

Webb, Rouzer, Nelson, and Benner were regulars, Widmyer was in practically every game at some stage. Several of the others were irregulars and a half-dozen saw action only rarely.

OLD LINE ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

By W. H. ("Bill") HOTTEL

Gridiron Campaign Is Not Quite 50-50

Missing Goal In Virginia Contest Prevents Even Break. Season Results As Expected

Maryland's Varsity football team, in the throes of rebuilding, lost six of its 11 games during the campaign just ended. In the games it lost, except to Virginia by one point, Maryland simply was up against much better and more experienced material. This was especially true in the games with Vanderbilt, Duke, and Western Maryland.

With only one regular in the line and two in the backfield left from 1931 around whom to build, Curley Byrd never could find a line combination that came near matching the forwards of his major rivals. This was especially true of the ends. Not one of the seven men used on the wings at various times during the campaign was a high-class performer. Willis Benner, a junior, was the leader of the bunch, but even he did not play regularly.

Fatal First Half

However, Maryland played really bad football only in the Navy game and in the first half of the finale with Western Maryland, after helping Western Maryland to 39 points in first 30 minutes, the Old Liners settled down and outplayed the Terrors in the last half by a wide margin, scoring the only 7 points during that time and seriously threatening on two other occasions.

Maryland's season came out just about as those in charge figured it might. Victories were scored as presaged, defeats came where expected, and it was believed that the game with Virginia was a toss-up. The Old Liners outplayed the Cavaliers and then lost a tie by failure to add the extra point after touchdown.

Maryland's record:

Maryland, 63; Washington College, 0.
Maryland, 6; Virginia, 7.
Maryland, 0; Virginia Poly, 23.
Maryland, 0; Duke, 34.
Maryland, 24; St. John's, 7.
Maryland, 12; V. M. I., 7.
Maryland, 0; Vanderbilt, 13.
Maryland, 7; Navy, 28.
Maryland, 6; Washington and Lee, 0.
Maryland, 23; Johns Hopkins, 0.
Maryland, 7; Western Maryland, 39.

It Doesn't Happen Often

During his 21 years of football coaching at Maryland, Curley Byrd's teams have lost more games than they have won, just four times, and the 1932 campaign was one of them. Maryland previously had been on the wrong side of the ledger only in 1921, 1925, and 1927. In 1927 the Old Liners missed three tie tilts by failure to kick the goal after touchdowns.

Shipley Faces Job With Varsity Quint

Has One Regular, Three Letter-Men On Squad. Satellites Lost From 1931-32 Team

With Buckey Buscher the only regular left from the 1931-32 season, Coach Burton Shipley, of the basket ball squad, faces about the same difficulties as Curley Byrd had to battle with during the gridiron campaign just closed. And Shipley's team plays a tough 19-game schedule.

Rufus Vincent, center, and Spencer Chase, forward, two tall tossers along with Buscher, also won their letters last season, and it is around these three that Shipley will have to build his quint.

Bob Snyder, reserve guard a year ago, and Roy Yowell and Warren Evans, from last year's freshman team, appear to be the best of the others. George Weber, a senior out for the first time, and George Walker, ineligible last season, also should prove of value.

But a team that loses such stars as Bozie Berger, twice All-American guard; Ed Ronkin, All-Southern two years ago; Shorty Chalmers, Charlie May, Bob Wilson, and Frenchy Cohen, all letter-men, certainly is dealt a blow from which it is practically impossible to recover, at least in one campaign.

Maryland will have a battling team that will play interesting basket-ball, but it cannot be expected to measure up to Shipley's record of 72% victories in 151 games in nine years. Only twice—once 4 to 6, in his first year, in 1924, and, 7 to 8, in 1929, did Shipley's charges finish on the short end. In other seasons they have been on the long end, all excepting once, by a heavy margin.

Alumni Board To Meet December 16, In Washington

The fall meeting of the Alumni Board will be held December 16, at the Raleigh Hotel in Washington. The board will have dinner at 6:30 P. M., and the meeting will follow immediately. Senator M. E. Tydings, '10, president of the association, will preside.

Pouleur, '05, Visits Campus While On Sabbatic Leave

A. L. Pouleur, '05, visited the campus October 1, while motoring to the Pacific coast on sabbatical leave. He was traveling in a Fiat car of 1915 vintage that attracted attention by its high wheels. This is the first time Professor Pouleur has visited the campus since his student days. He was very much pleased and surprised at the many changes that have taken place on the campus.

Since leaving Maryland he has received a degree from Harvard University, taught at the Universities of Iowa, Buffalo, Maine, Tufts College, and is now head of the chemistry department of Wheaton College, where he has been since 1918.

Professor Pouleur recently presented the chemical department of the University with a complete set of atomic structure models, in recognition of the inspiration received from Dr. H. B. McDonnell, his first teacher in chemistry. Dr. McDonnell, professor of agricultural chemistry, has been a part of the University since the early nineties. Professor Pouleur, a citizen of Massachusetts, attributes his coming to Maryland to the enthusiastic talk of W. W. Cobey, '01, who, following his graduation, was employed in that state.

Alumni Groups Plan For Get-Togethers

sections who are anxious to become organized, were talked with.

Fred B. Rakeman, '18, of New York, was on hand and said plans are progressing for a good get-together of Maryland alumni located in and near New York City. In fact several informal meetings of the executive committee have already been held. J. P. Mudd, '07, secretary-treasurer of the Philadelphia group, one of the most active groups of the association is planning several meetings for the coming winter. This group usually has at least two, and maybe three, get-togethers during the season.

Homer Remsberg, '18, president of the Frederick group, reports that a get-together of his group looks more favorable this year than it did last year.

W. A. S. Somerville, '08, from the Cumberland group, said that Brooke Whiting, president of the group, was making plans for their usual pretentious banquet and dance. This group and the Old Liners of Washington, under the leadership of Wellstood White, '05, share leading honors for having the most outstanding get-togethers.

Dr. A. A. Parker and Dr. Frank B. Hines, of the Eastern Shore, discussed plans for organizing the alumni on the Shore. Henry Holzapfel, Jr., '93, L. G. Mathias, '23, and Eddie Semler, '22, all of Hagerstown, discussed with interest and enthusiasm the organization of Washington County.

The alumni officers hope to have a most favorable report, regarding get-togethers, at the annual meeting next June.

During this drive he gave up his dugout for the care of wounded; then led his command across the Marne, and directed the reduction of several machine-gun nests, as well as advancing four kilometers in spite of determined resistance. Prior to coming to Washington he was in the military department at North Carolina State College, Raleigh, N. C.

When at Maryland Silvester was an outstanding athlete as well as a student, being valedictorian of his class. He is now living at 3907 Harrison Street, Chevy Chase, D. C.

now and again—the Adventurer would be my lot. A University graduate (not Maryland, I am glad to say) said to me some days ago, "Are you a missionary?" I replied with much pride, "I am." And he continued with this, "Now just what is a missionary?" After catching my breath, I gave him a brief answer. I am assuming, when I say that I have been an educational missionary under the Methodist Episcopal Church in British Malaya for 18 years, Maryland graduates will have no difficulty in roughly picturing both the geographical position and the purpose of that statement.

The Beginning

The first circuit began November 5, 1913, from Mitchellville to New York; from there, on the ill-fated Lusitania (not her last voyage), to Fishguard, West Coast of England. Then London, Gibraltar, Marseilles, Port Said, Suez, Aden, Colombo, Penang, Singapore, 180° from Washington, where I stopped for five years in the "Wonderland of the Far East"—British Malaya. Then Hongkong, Shanghai, Nagasaki, Yokohama, Honolulu, 'Frisco, Ogden, Salt Lake City, Denver, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, and finally back to Mitchellville, May 29, 1919. As I record this list, what memories arise! London—confidence men; Port Said—flies; Nagasaki—neuralgia and coal; Honolulu—liquid sunshine; 'Frisco—blow-gun and trunks.

MARYLAND still is a member of the original Southern Conference, the split that took place at the recent meeting in Knoxville leaving 10 members of the parent organization. The 13 going out, labeled the "seceders," took the name of the Southeastern Conference. Others remaining in the parent body are Virginia, Washington and Lee, V. M. I., V. P. I., Duke, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Clemson and South Carolina. These 10 will meet in Richmond, Va., on January 13 and 14, with changes being made in several rules. The eligibility rules have been tightened, with scholastic work coming in for particular attention.

THE ALUMNI DIRECTORY ASK YOUR ASSISTANCE

CONTINUOUS efforts have been made to compile a complete and up-to-date Alumni Directory. However, discouraging difficulties have been encountered by the failure of many alumni to answer the inquiry cards; but the Directory, prepared to the best of the officers' ability, is now ready for printing.

At this time a last appeal is being made to alumni for their help in making the Directory as nearly complete as possible. Send us your correct address, which is the most important, and any other information that you might have about yourself or fellow alumni.

The Directory is compiled as follows: All names now appearing on our mailing list, are arranged in alphabetical order, giving the class, degree, occupation, business address, residence or home address, and if married. Other lists in the Directory will be those of all presidents of the College Park Branch of the institution, all trustees, since 1872, all presidents, vice-presidents, and secretaries of the Alumni Association, war veterans, and alumni arranged geographically and by classes.

It is believed that the Directory will be of much interest and a great help toward clarifying the alumni records.

Your prompt help will be gratefully appreciated.

E. S. Walker, '72, Oldest Known Former Student

Edward Spedden Walker, '72, of Mitchellville, Md., to the best of the records, is the oldest living former student of the College Park Schools. He entered Maryland Agricultural College in 1868, and attended about one year. Admiral Franklin Buchaman was president of the faculty at the time and Major Handy was professor of military.

After leaving Maryland, Walker returned to his father's farm at "Pleasant Prospects," which contained approximately six hundred acres, to assist in farming. This farm he inherited from his father and has devoted his entire life to agriculture. He was a well-known Percheron horse breeder, but since the innovation of tractors and automobiles he has turned to dairying. At present he has a herd of 80 Guernseys and up-to-date dairy equipment. He is assisted by his son, Desmond.

Walker is the father of fifteen children and has been married twice. By his first wife, a Miss Duckett, he had nine children and by his second wife, Miss Ann Harlan, he has six. He is a neighbor of Marion Duckett, Jr., '05, of Forest Hills Farms, Mitchellville, Md., to whom we are indebted for the information regarding Mr. Walker.

When the World Skips a Day

I shall endeavor to set down from pages of a diary and from leaves of memory, in this column, some of my experiences. They have not been set down before. Some things that transpired in my wanderings would interest only my immediate family circle, some would be read attentively by a churchman, but I propose to set down here for the ALUMNI NEWS that which I believe will be of interest to all. They may not be chronological, that matters but little. I shall be concerned with accuracy. So here we go.

The International Date Line is a funny thing. It just is, and it isn't. When you travel from Nagasaki to Honolulu, which is East, you come to a place on the sea near Bird Island, some two days journey from Hawaii, where a day just sinks out of existence. You go to bed, we will say March 10, Tuesday, and wake up after perhaps eight hours, according to your watch under the pillow, and see on the bulletin board and all over the ship, Thursday, March 12th! Where is March 11th? Why, it just isn't. Some poor traveler who loves to be remembered on his birthday comes to the captain and with anxious face asks, "Why, captain, what am I to do, March 11 is my birthday?" The skipper smiles one of those salt smiles and says, "Well, I am sorry, but you can't have a birthday this year." Then suppose the poor fellow happened to be going the other way, West, just at that time, and that is perfectly possible—he would have to celebrate two whole days running, or 48 hours, for March 11 would be recorded twice. That week would have eight days. Where did the extra day come from? Your watch would tick just 24 hours in these two days. Forty-eight hours equals 24 hours. Q. E. D., I knew that I would qualify for membership in the above named club even before the first pen full of ink ran out, but there you are.

I will start the adventures next time by way of "Observations from a Port Hole."

F. Brooke Whiting, '98, Heads Alumni Group In Cumberland

The University Alumni Club of Cumberland and vicinity is making preparations for its annual reunion and get-together, under the leadership of F. Brooke Whiting, '98, LL.B., president. The date has not been selected, but the meeting will probably be held the latter part of February or the first part of March. Previous reunions have been held at the Cumberland Country Club, where a banquet, followed by a dance, was the program.

F. Brooke Whiting

Whiting, a prominent lawyer of the Allegany County bar and an outstanding politician, is a most able leader. He entered the University Law School in 1895, graduating with an LL. B. in '98. With the exception of one year's service in the Spanish-American War, he has been practicing law in Cumberland ever since.

The Cumberland group is one of the most active groups in the association. Their get-togethers are usually outstanding affairs. Nearly 200 alumni and friends attended the meeting last year.

Other officers of the association are: Vice-Presidents: Dr. C. T. Owens, Med.; Dr. A. P. Dixon, Dental; Walter C. Capper, Law; Dr. A. L. Batie, Phar.; R. F. McHenry, College Park Schools; Dr. Joe P. Franklin, Secretary; J. W. P. Sommerville, Treas.

Hopkins Grid Game To Be November 18

Shifted for One Year On Account of Clash With Florida—Being Slated December 2

For the first time in many years there will be no Maryland-Hopkins game on Thanksgiving Day next fall.

Owing to the fact that Florida is to be met in Jacksonville on December 2, next, the Hopkins game was transfered to November 18 in an exchange of dates with St. John's. The arrangement is for 1933 only and the annual turkey-day battle will be resumed in 1934.

Hopkins and Maryland also have decided to forsake the Baltimore Stadium for the game, and starting next fall it will be played at Homewood Field and Byrd Stadium in alternate seasons.

There is some chance too, that the Maryland-Western Maryland tilt, listed for October 28 next fall, will be played on the Homewood gridiron. The stadium simply is too big for crowds of the size that patronize the games. It also is felt that a smaller field would make the contests more homelike and of greater interest to the fans.

As the Maryland grid schedule for 1933 stands, and, in fact, as it will be played, it calls for 10 games, one on each Saturday from the opening tilt with St. John's on September 30 until the finale with Florida on December 2.

The complete list:

September 30—St. John's at College Park.
October 7—V. P. I., at Norfolk.
October 14—Tulane at New Orleans.
October 21—V. M. I. at Lexington.
October 28—Western Maryland at College Park or Baltimore.
November 4—Virginia at Charlottesville.
November 11—Duke at College Park.
November 18—Johns Hopkins at Homewood.
November 25—Washington and Lee at College Park.
December 2—Florida at Jacksonville.

MARYLAND REMAINS ONE OF OLD GROUP

Of course, the Southern Conference will hold its own meets in various sports, and it seems certain now that the basket-ball event will go to Raleigh, N. C.

Newspaper comment in general, including the territory covered by the Southeastern group, has been favorable to the Southern Conference, it being intimated strongly that some of the "seceders" could not stand the stringent eligibility pressure.

As one paper put it: "All of the sportsmen and gentlemen are in the Southern Conference and all the politicians are in the Southeastern Conference.

New Boxing Mentor

Boxing Is Coming In For Attention

Lieut. Harmony, New Coach, Popular And Capable, So Formidable Team Is Expected

Much interest centers in the Varsity boxing team this year with Lt. John W. (Jazz) Harmony coaching the squad for the first year. He not only appears to "know his onions" but is extremely popular with the boys. So a capable team is anticipated.

Harmony appears to be well fixed in all of the classes except the light-heavy division in which he is striving to develop John Simpson, the football guard. All of the men up to this weight had been out for six weeks or more prior to the holidays. Simpson had only a few days of ring schooling before the recess.

Harmony has had plenty of time to get a line on his boxers in the five classes ranging from the 115 to the 160 pound, inclusive, and he has the South Atlantic A. A. U. heavyweight champion in Al Farrell, the 204-pound football tackle.

The squad at present embraces the following:

115-pound Class—Joe Harris, Soph., Washington, D. C.; Edras Gruver, Senior, Hyattsville, Md. Earl Edwards, Junior, Washington, D. C.

135-pound Class—Harold Berns, Soph., Washington, D. C.; Clifton Swaf[illegible] Junior, Washington, D. C.; De Witt F[illegible], Soph., Snow Hill, Md., Ernest Layman, Soph., Frostburg, Md.

145-pound Class—Bernard Kecher, Senior, Ruppsburg, Md., Victor Wingate, Senior, Wingate, Md.

160-pound Class—George Hockensmith, Senior, Washington, D. C., Lyman McAboy, Soph., Washington, D. C.; James West, Junior, Washington, D. C., Orlin M. Jones, Soph., Washington, D. C.

175-pound Class—William Robbins, Junior, Cambridge, Md.

Heavyweight Al Farrell, Soph., Washington, D. C., John McDonald, Soph., Washington, D. C., John Simpson, Junior, Washington, D. C.

Basket-ball Team To Develop Power

Should Be Hard To Defeat After It Gets Needed Experience—To Invade Baltimore

Coach Burton Shipley's basketers, defeated by Wisconsin 22 to 13, in their opening game of the season in Ritchie Coliseum on December 22, were to resume their home competition by playing Duke on January 12. However, in the meantime the Old Liners were to take a trip to Blacksburg on January 7 to oppose V. P. I.

Baltimoreans will get a chance to see the Old Liners in action in the Monumental City on January 18, when Hopkins will be met in the Loyola gym at Evergreen. Both the Maryland Varsity and Freshman teams will appear that night.

Shipley's charges, after a bad first half in which their poor passing wrecked opportunities to get off in front of Wisconsin, came back strong in the last 20 minutes and shaded the Badgers generally.

Aided by the Old Liners wild heaves, the Badgers got a 14 to 2 lead in the opening half, but overcoming their wildness and playing a bang-up defensive game, the Terps outscored the Midwesterners 11 to 8 in the closing period. The Old Liners will be hard to beat after they get two or three more games under their belts.

Shipley started Roy Yowell and Spencer Chase, forwards; Rufus Vincent, center, and Bob Snyder and Bucky Buscher, guards. They played most of the game, Fred Stieber and George Walker doing some reserve duty. George Weber, Warren Evans and Stewart McCaw, the other three on the squad, were not available the night of the game. Weber and Evans worked as mailmen during the holidays and McCaw went home.

Duke, which Maryland played in its first home game of the year, defeated the University of Baltimore, Georgetown and George Washington on a northern trip just preceding the holidays. Maryland won 30-28.

were: The enlarging of the ALUMNI NEWS without cost to the Association; advertisements to be used to subsidize the additional cost. The annual meeting for 1933 will be held June 10 at College Park. Life membership is to be provided for by an addition to the by-laws at the annual meeting, for those who desire to make use of it. The fee will be $50.00. The receipts from life memberships will be invested by a reliable trust company and only the interest used by the association. The alumni fund, while low at the present, is expected to grow rapidly when definite plans have been made for administrating same.

Additional co-ed representation on the Board will be dealt with at the annual meeting, when an amendment to the by-laws will be presented.

Alumni Directory

The Alumni Directory, in addition to the Memorial, received considerable discussion. Action taken was that the president and secretary-treasurer be appointed as a committee, with power to act, to confer with the university authorities upon a feasible plan for publishing the Directory.

The Alumni Memorial was discussed at some length. Attractive plans prepared by Messrs. Carrington, '28, and Himmelheber, '23, were produced. During the discussion Mr. Byrd explained the proposed enlargement of the athletic field, whereupon Sen. Tydings suggested that in this new improvement a suitable location should be selected for an appropriate memorial around which many traditions for this university could be built. A suggestion was made that Maj. Cutler, architect for the Coliseum and the proposed new stadium, be interviewed, his advice secured on this project, and a report to be made at the next meeting of the board.

The nominating committee for officers for '33-'34 were named as follows: Chairman, Maj. O. H. Saunders, '10; Miss Sarah Morris, '24; H. H. Balkham, '17; J. W. Chambers, '99; P. W. Chichester, '19.

Following the business session, Dr. Pearson made a few remarks on the relation of Alumni and students. He suggested "that alumni-student meetings be held at various places throughout the State during vacation periods, which would effect an opportunity for alumni and students to discuss those things of mutual interest."

The meeting adjourned with February 9 as the time set for the next session.

St. John's Boxers Listed, Making Sixth Opponent

A match with St. John's has been added to the Old Line boxing schedule, giving six tilts in all, five of which are to follow attractive basket-ball games in Ritchie Coliseum. Washington and Lee, on January 9 at Lexington provided the opener and the home contests are:

January 21—V. P. I.

February 4—Duke; 11—V. M. I.; 18—Western Maryland; 22—St. John's.

Basket-ball games that follow the boxing matches are with V. P. I., Georgia, Washington and Lee, Western Maryland and Hopkins, respectively.

Twenty players and managers of the 1932 football team were awarded the varsity "M" at the "M" Club banquet, held February 9, 1932, in the University dining-hall at College Park. Mr. James M. Driver, director of athletics of the University of Virginia, was the guest speaker. He gave a very comprehensive talk on the new trend in intercollegiate athletics. "Varsity athletics have a place in the university program only as a supplement to the educational program and ideals of the University. The intramural program is greatly needed so that every student in the University may benefit by the endeavor. Maryland is a good example of the new trend," said Mr. Driver.

Bomberger, '94, Toastmaster

Dr. Frank B. Bomberger, '94, was toastmaster. Other speakers of the evening were: Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, president of the University; James N. Burns, '11, president of the "M" Club, and Robert M. Watkins, '23, professor of Public Speaking. Mr. Watkins gave a realistic review of the march of time in athletics at the old time school.

Rev. Walter P. Plumley, '29, a former track and cross-country man, gave the invocation.

Mr. Charles R. Fenwick, a former Virginia football star and now assistant gridiron coach to Curley Byrd, made the presentation of "M's" to the football men.

Tenth Anniversary of Club

Hon. John E. Raine, member of the Board of Regents, unable to be present for the banquet, sent a telegram extending his "sincere congratulations to the wearers of the 'M' who have brought most creditable recognition to the University."

All "M" men on the campus, and many former "M" men, alumni, faculty members, and friends of the University attended the banquet.

The banquet was held as a part of this years program to commemorate the founding of the club 10 years ago.

UNFAIR EDITORIALIST

An editorialist of the Baltimore Sun papers has gone out of his way to attack the University's Budget through "Curley Byrd." Whether or not these attacks are engendered by dislike for the University's progress, or have some other reason behind them, they are wholly unfair. To label "Curley" as a showman or as a fourth rate coach is enough to give a good idea of the status of all the comments made by the editorial writer in question.

"Curley," a graduate in the class of '08, returned to College Park more than 20 years ago, not solely as an athletic coach, but as a teacher in English and History with coaching as a part time job. Being gifted with an abundance of initiative and ingenuity, he has attained a prominent position in the University's administration. Records show that the University in the past 20 years has ascended to not only an eminent position in athletics, but has gained high prestige and influence in the educational world. Much of this advancement can be attributed to the wisdom, forethought and leadership of "Curley" and the part he has taken in the administration of the University's program.

The Alumni, and people of the state generally, well appreciate the progress made by the University and the position it has attained and it is unlikely that they will be swayed in the least by such unfair attack upon the institution and "Curley." It probably is unnecessary to defend either the University or "Curley," but the ALUMNI NEWS feels that this comment is apropos in view of the lengthy discussions that have appeared in the Sun.

Circling The Globe

By Preston L. Peach, '03

FROM THE PORT-HOLE

When you want to use your port-hole as a waste basket you need a high degree of decision of character. How many times have I stood before mine and wished that I had a "land" waste basket so if I made a mistake I could go outside and retrieve what I threw away. But what a blessing when you really want to get rid of something—a used razor-blade.

The English

An English friend of mine was traveling with me from London to Colombo. Now the Englishman likes to dress up at the evening dinner hour. He went to his cabin to read, the port-hole was closed, the air was stuffy so he opened it. In a little while an approaching storm allured him on deck. He forgot to close the port-hole. I think we were traveling along the southern end of the Adriatic Sea, where the sea gets rough very quickly. The dinner gong rang at six and he went down to dress. The size of his port-hole was 14 inches, the speed of the ship was 18 knots and the speed of the wave probably 18 knots in the opposite direction. The signal had gone to the steward long before my friend left the deck; four cabin boys were bailing out his room and hanging up his evening suit to "cure." Now all well salted down. Yes, there is a philosophy about the port-hole. Light and air are not the only parts of nature that enter.

Saddest Happening

The saddest thing I ever knew of, regarding this interesting part of a ship, was the following: A little family of father, mother and two brothers—five and three years old—were traveling by sea. They had a cabin well down in the ship with an outside port-hole. It was open, father and mother were out and the two boys were playing on the floor. They saw the neat round hole above. The elder brother helped the younger one up on the berth to see what was out there. What a wonderful sight, the water rushing by, the beautiful birds flying so close, the white soap-suds on the water. He must see more. Father and mother returned and found the elder brother alone. "Where is little brother?" He replied, "Oh" he went out that hole up there, and he has not come back yet!"

Between these stories, the traveler sees some wonderful things from the port-hole. There is a philosophy associated with this part of a ship. It is the most fascinating place in your cabin—that home on the sea. From it you receive light and air. Its thick, double plateglass cover will keep back an angry sea. What safety and comfort of mind is your's when you see a mighty wave dash with tons of force against it?

OLD LINE ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

Basket-ball Team May Win Majority

Sees Chance For Good Finish After Losing Eight of First 12 Games of Season

Although the Maryland basket-ball team has won only four of its first 12 games, with seven left to play, it is felt that the basketers have a fairly good chance to finish on the right side of the ledger. This means they must take six of seven games to turn the trick and the array of final foes include Washington College, Washington and Lee, Virginia, V. M. I., St. John's, Western Maryland and Hopkins. All were slated at home.

All of Maryland's four wins were within the Southern Conference in which they stand, 4 and 3, and the Old Liners seem certain of a place among the eight quints that will start battling for the title at Raleigh, N. C., February 24.

The Old Liners had the distinction of inflicting the lone Conference loss on Duke, which won six of its first seven games within the organization. The Terps also beat North Carolina, rated among the very best in the Dixie group.

Four Marylanders Named As Outstanding for Year

Bozie Berger, for his basket-ball prowess; Earl Widmyer, for his sprinting ability, and Irene and Josephine Knox for their skill with a rifle, were mentioned as outstanding in these sports in the Washington area in a yearly review published in the Sunday Star of December 25.

Berger was all-American guard in basket-ball and Irene Knox won the national rifle championship and set new record for the competition. Berger got his degree last June, but all the others are still students.

Shipley is Shy of Talent; Loss of Yowell Hurts

Roy Yowell, sophomore basketer, who had won a regular job on the quint, has been placed on probation, and Coach Burton Shipley now doubtless has the most limited amount of talent of any team in the Conference or in this section.

Besides Bob Snyder and Spider Chase, forwards; Rufus Vincent, center, and Buckey Buscher and George Weber, guards, his regular line-up now, Shipley has only George Walker and Warren Evans whom he can use to real advantage. These seven, in all probability, will carry Maryland's hopes in the Conference tourney.

Boxers Not Beaten; Win and Tie Twice

Two Sophomore Members of Squad Capture All Their Bouts in First Three Meets

Maryland's boxing team, ably tutored by Lieut. John W. (Jazz) Harmony, the new coach, with three bouts gone and as many to be decided when this was written, had one victory and two ties to its credit and a bright outlook for the remaining battles.

In between ties at 4-all with Washington and Lee and Duke, the Old Liners defeated Virginia Poly, 6 to 2.

Harold Burns, 135 pounder, and Lyman McAboy, who fights in the 165 pound class, although he could make the 155, are the only boxers who were able to win all of their first three bouts. Both are sophomores, too.

Bernie Keener, 145 pounds; Harry Carroll, 125; Stewart McCaw, 175, and Al Ferrall, heavy, won two of their first three contests.

* * * * *

Rufus Vincent, with 109 points for the first 12 games, is the pace setter in spring for the Old Line basketers.

Other point getters in the first dozen tilts were: Bob Snyder, 66; Spider Chase, 56; Buckey Buscher, 50; Roy Yowell, 32; George Weber, 26; George Walker, 11; Warren Evans, 9.

Basketers, Boxers Have Fine Seasons

Shipley and Harmony do Good Work With These Teams—Yearling Tossers Also Shine

MARYLAND is well satisfied with the showing of its teams in basket-ball and boxing during the recent season.

Coach Burton Shipley, with his 1932 quint riddled by graduation, had to rebuild almost entirely. He did such a good job of it that the basketers, after losing seven of the first 10 games, finished with a record of 11 wins and eight losses. All of the last seven games were won.

Leading victories were scored over Duke, runner-up in the Southern Conference, and North Carolina, another topnotch outfit. A notable feature of the schedule was "revenge" victories, over Virginia, Washington and Lee, V. M. I., and Hopkins, after these teams had won early in the campaign before Maryland hit its stride.

Rufus Vincent, who scored 220 points, to lead both the Conference and teams in the Washington area, was picked on the second all-Conference quint. He rated as all-State center and also was the choice for the all-star Washington area five.

Bob Snyder, with 150 points; Chase, with 107; Buckey Buscher, with 82; and George Weber, with 38, were the other regulars. George Walker, Warren Evans, Fred Stieber and Frank Levine completed the squad. Roy Yowell, a regular up to that time, was put on scholastic probation about the middle of the season.

A MODERN TRAGEDY

Behold the college graduate!
The space between his ears
Is filled with lots and lots of brains—
His eyes are filled with tears.

He knows what makes the world go 'round,
(Most likely gin or rye).
He knows what brave Columbus found,
What makes we mortals die.

He's versed in grammar rules and such
At chemistry, a shark,
No one can tell him very much
About a place to park.

An expert on the finer things,
(I now repress a sob)
He'd find a blind date in the dark,
But cannot find a job!

Maryland's Pretty Co-ed Heard About In China

When a well known news syndicate picked the four most beautiful co-eds in the United States to represent the North, East, South and Western sections, they choose Miss Mary Stalling a sophomore in the College of Arts and Science of this University to represent the Eastern institutions.

Maryland itself knew it had beautiful women but did not know it was known the world over, but it is now. "Ed" Tenney, '28, now with an internationally known oil company in China, sent a North China News Paper to a friend at the University, in which there was the picture of Miss Stalling as one of the four most beautiful co-eds in America. Naturally Ed read with much interest about the feminine pulchritude on the University's campus. Too bad "Ed" you are so far away.

Miss Stalling is a very pretty young lady; and a modest personality adds much to her beauty.

GRUNTS FROM THE AIR

It has been a time honored custom in many families to "give up" something for Lent. Dad usually gives up smoking, feels like a martyr, and acts like the devil. Sister pretends to give her sweet tooth a vacation, but usually snitches a piece or two on the side. However, the idea of everybody giving up money for Lent is new and novel.

Says, MARK WELSH.

has done in a masterly manner, which progress has proven.

During the so-called Machine Age following the World War when prices were soaring high, the Baltimore Salesbook Company was consistently going along and holding to the first idea of increasing its efficiency to help serve its many customers. Consequently the business of the company has increased 1,000 per cent in the last decade.

A new development was bought out by the company last October which will add much to the efficiency of clerical departments of companies where many duplicates have to be written. It is a new duplicating method which gives as high as 10 clear copies without the clerk ever touching a piece of carbon, thus eliminating possibilities of copying errors.

Speer is now president of the company which has not only weathered the depression era, but has shown a gain in business each year. Its progress and success is largely due to his efficient management.

A Good Athlete

Speer came to the College Park School of the University in 1915, and proved to be a great athlete as well as a good student. He was a member of probably one of the best relay teams ever produced at College Park. He was also a great halfback on the football team, as well as a runner. His gridiron performances gained for him exceptional prominence.

His interest in athletics did not become dormant after leaving college. He is today taking an active interest in golf and has been very prominent in several tournaments held in Baltimore. Football has not lost its charm as he attends the games as often as business will permit.

Speer's present address is: President, Baltimore Salesbook Company, 3132 Frederick Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland.

Portrays the methods of establishing statistical relationship and the reviewer knows not where to go for so full and so sensible a treatment of the subject."

A few years ago Ezekiel was awarded the Guggenhem Fellowship, which gave him an opportunity to study economics in many European Countries and Russia. He was on the survey for one year, during which time he was granted a leave of absense from the Federal Farm Board. He was accompanied on the trip by his wife, formerly Miss Lucille Finsterwald.

Outlook Is Bright For Spring Sports

Good Teams Appear Likely in Track, Baseball, Lacrosse, Tennis, Some Stars Missing

Prospects in track, baseball, lacrosse and tennis, especially the first two named, are bright at Maryland this Spring.

With the exception of the field events, Coach Geary Eppley is pretty well satisfied with the track situation; Burton Shipley, the baseball mentor, has much good material, although he lost two great players in Bozie Berger and Shorty Chalmers; while Jack Faber, the lacrosse tutor, is not singing the blues despite the fact that he lost all his 1932 defense regulars except one. He is well fixed in the attack.

Its best bid in years should be made by the tennis team. Twelve fine courts have been provided and Leslie Bopst, associate State chemist and a former Old Line net-man, will handle the team. Much better talent than usual is available.

However, he is at his best at 100 yards and should score heavily in outdoor competition. Widmyer who is a sophomore, also led the Old Line football team in scoring last Fall with 39 points.

Grid Battle Shows Line Material Good

Golds, Mostly 1932 Left-overs, Take Game, 12 to 0, from Freshmen in Spring Drills.

Maryland, holding real Spring practice for the first time in history, played a game of four eight-minute periods recently in which the Golds, made up mainly of 1932 left-overs, and the Blacks, all members of the Freshman squad last Fall, opposed.

The Golds, scoring both touch-downs on passes from Nelson to Sothoron, won by 12 to 0. The Golds made two other first downs while the Blacks made none.

The lines had a great duel, the better and more experienced backs winning for the Golds.

In fact, live material sizes up better than last Fall but the backfield offers more of a problem.

Here are the line-ups:

Basketers, Boxers Have Fine Seasons

Lieut. John Harmony, new coach, gave Maryland the best boxing season it ever has had. Starting with only one letter-man, he won three matches and tied a like number at 4-all.

His leading boxers were Harold Burns, lightweight, unbeaten in the regular season; Bernie Keener, welter; Lyman McAboy and Monte Jones, who fought both in the 155 and 165-pound classes; Harry Carroll, featherweight; Stewart McCaw, light-heavy, and Al Farrell, heavyweight. Jim Young, Esdras Gruver and Earl Edwards, who shared the bantam duties, and Cliff Swift, lightweight, also did some fine work.

Shipley will lose only Weber and Stieber by graduation and all Harmony's pupils, except Keener and Gruver, are due back.

Jack Faber, with two clever players in Fred Scheele, and Bernie Buscher, brother of Buckey, and two fair performers in Alton Rabbitt and Malcolm Johns, won 10 of 13 games with his yearling basketers. All four of these players should prove a help to the Varsity next Fall.

Burns, Keener and Farrell did well in the Southern Conference boxing tourney. Burns went to the final, Farrell lost in the semi-final, and Keener went out in the first round. Each one of their conquerors became the champion in his class.

Maryland went out in the first round of the Southern Conference basketball tourney, losing to the favored South Carolina quint that continued on to the championship.

Twenty Years Ago

At this time just 20 years ago, the spring sports were getting under way. Baseball, being a favorite pastime was naturally the most prominent sport. The diamonders were lead by "Pete" Lednum, '14, a capable and scrappy infielder. Probably the mainstay of the nine was "Hoff" Hoffecker, '14, a most promising twirler. He upheld his reputation by holding the Navy team to two runs while his teammates collected three tallies. "Ship" Shipley and Country Morris were also prominent players of the season.

The relay track team composed of Grace, P. Morris, Pennington, and Montell, was successful in winning the State Championship. During the spring of '13, the annual M. A. C. Track and Field meet was held May 3. It was regarded as the largest ever held in the South.

The fourth season for lacrosse at Maryland showed that the sport was making great progress. Ed. Powell, '13, Captain and coach along with capable classmates, "Peck" Davis, '13, and "Sox" Trimble, '13, lead the team through a very good season.

Powell was not only good with the lacrosse-stick but also the leader with a tennis-racket. Tennis was not recognied as a college sport and competition was mainly among the students.

Annual Field Day Offers Fine Card

Scholastic Track Competition On May 6 Will Be Supported By Four Varsity Events

THE ANNUAL FIELD DAY at Maryland, which this year will fall on May 6, promises to be one of the most pretentious, if not the most attractive, in the history of the games.

As usual, the open interscholastic meet and the closed events for county high schols of the State will furnish the base around which the affair is built, but there will be four Varsity events of note.

Rutgers In Lacrosse

Duke, which always has one of the best college baseball teams in the South, will provide the diamond opposition; Johns Hopkins will oppose the Maryland trackmen in a dual meet that will be run concurrently with the scholastic event; the Blue Jays also will offer the competition in tennis, while Rutgers will meet the Old Line lacrosse team in the finale of the day.

The events will be so spaced that it will be possible to see practically all of them, as all the other affairs will be over before the lacrosse contest is started.

Rutgers is the team that Maryland had to battle to the finish to defeat 5-4 in the Olympic play-off series semi-finals last June in Baltimore.

Members Of '03 On Campus

Sickness brought about a meeting of several members of the class of 1903. William H. Dunbar, a senior in agriculture was taken sick with appendicitis which brought his father, E. B. Dunbar, '03, here from Little Valley, N. Y. Young Dunbar is now back in school and doing nicely.

While Dunbar, Sr., was here he visited his classmates, Preston L. Peach, and E. P. Walls on the campus, and discussed plans for the forthcoming thirty-year reunion of their class in June.

Indications are that the class is planning a big reunion with many members returning. E. P. Walls, is president of the class.

Surgeon General Of Navy Medical Corp

REAR ADMIRAL PERCIVAL S. ROSSITER

Percival S. Rossiter, a graduate of the University's Medical School in the class of 1895, has attained the high and eminent post of Surgeon General of the U. S. Navy Medical Corp. Following his graduation he enlisted as assistant surgeon of volunteers and served in the Spanish American War and the Philippine Insurrection. Investigation has found that the University's chemistry department has attained a high rank among 26 colleges which have had papers published during 1930-31, '32, in "The Analytical Addition to the Journal of Industrial Chemistry. This journal is acclaimed the most important publication on analytical chemistry in this country, according to Dr. Wiley of the chemistry department.

Maryland Dental Students Win Ice Hockey Laurels

When the Baltimore Amateur Ice Hockey League terminated its 1933 season, the University of Maryland Dental School team was the season's champions. For many years the University has been represented on the rink by a team which has brought prestige to the University as well as upheld the sportsmanship traditions.

This year's team was composed of Dental School students who come from the Northern States and Canada, where they have had considerable experience playing the game. Their ability was proven by the fact that they were in competition with former captains and stars of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth and Army, including the notable Barry Wood of Harvard.

Diggs Represents Maryland

The leading teams in the league were Maryland and Green Spring Valley. The first round of the series was won by Green Spring Valley, which defeated Maryland in a tie play off. In the second round of the league Maryland won with an undefeated record. Maryland and Green Spring then engaged in a championship play off, which Maryland won.

Maryland's representative on the board of directors of the league was none other than Austin C. Diggs, '21, the eminent cheer leader of yonder years.

The last game of the season was played without a penalty, which is quite unusual and speaks very highly for the sportsmanship and ability of the players.

Talent Is Limited On Lacrosse Team

Thirteen Players Must Tote Burden During Season—Defense, Coach Faber's Big Problem

Lack of capable reserve, in addition to a defense that appears rather uncertain, is going to be a handicap to the Maryland lacrosse team this season.

This was demonstrated in a practice tilt April 1, with the Varsity Club of Baltimore, in which the Old Liners outscored the clubmen 4 to 1.

Jack Faber showed his "full hand" in 13 players, his starting line-up being: Pfau, goal; Snyder, point; Mitchell, cover point; Rombro, first defense; Sothoron, second defense; Pugh, center; Wood, second attack; Hockensmith, first attack; Vincent, out home; Faber, in home.

Cole for Mitchell, Poppleman for Wood, and Thomas for Hockensmith were three of four changes made, and Maryland's strength is represented in the stickmen named.

Herold, a promising goalie, and Schaaf and Ramsburg, defense men, are three sophs who may deliver before the season is over.

At the reception immediately following the ceremony Mrs. Lanigan cut the wedding cake with her husband's sword.

The honeymoon was an extended motor trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Lieutenant Lanigan is better known by his former schoolmates as "Pat," a star football player. He has been with the Marine Corp ever since graduation, and has seen service on the Pacific Coast and in Nicaragua. He is now stationed at the Marine Barracks in Washington.

Old Liners To Visit Navy April 22 For Two Events

Maryland teams will play leading roles in the sports card at the Naval Academy on April 22, both the lacrosse and track squads visiting Annapolis for competition that day.

Track fans in this section are awaiting one phase of the meet in particular. That is the clash of Earl Widmyer, Maryland's sophomore sprinter, and John Waybright, the Navy's ace in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. They are the leading sprinters in this section of country and debates as to their relative ability have been prevalent.

Navy and Maryland appear to be on a par for the lacrosse game, each having lost a number of stars from last season when the Old Liners won a hard fought 4-2 game. Maryland, in fact, has won the last three games from the Middies and the latter are determined to call a halt.

Finds Boxing Prospects

Some clever boxing material for Lieut. Harmony's Varsity squad was discovered by the Old Line coach in a recent intra-mural tourney. He found at least a half a dozen highly promising recruits.

1933 Grid Problem Lies In Backfield

Line, Especially At Ends, Shall Be Much More Formidable Than During 1932 Season

Spring football practice, directed by Roy Mackert, assisted by Al Woods, has ended after eight weeks of toil. It was the first time in history that Maryland ever held serious spring drills.

One thing was made evident. That is, unless there are a number of scholastic casualties among the freshmen (sophs next fall), Maryland is going to present a much stronger line than it had last season. In fact, if all of the players return, the Old Liners should have two really good sets of forwards.

The most marked improvement should be shown in the end positions where three freshmen have displayed much ability, and Rittenhouse, a reserve last season, has shown great improvement.

Benner Shifted

Benner, Maryland's best end last year, has been shifted to the backfield, which will provide the big problem next fall. Benner promises to make good in his new job. His shift is indicative of how well the end positions are being taken care of by others.

However, Al Woods will leave a chasm in the backfield, and Ray Poppelman and Paul Kiernan, other highly capable ball toters, will be greatly missed.

Next fall's team should be better than the 1932 combination and another fine Old Line eleven appears in the offing for 1934.

Sothoron, Nelson, Crecca, Widmyer and Buscher are letter backs on hand, but two sets are essential to real success.

Several Changes Are Made In Spring Sport Schedules

There have been several changes made in the athletic schedules that were printed in the last issue of THE ALUMNI NEWS. Correct yours.

Revisions in the lacrosse list bring Washington College to College Park on April 29, and sends the Old Liners up to Penn State on May 13. This makes the game with Navy at Annapolis April 22, the opener for Maryland.

The baseball schedule has been changed to bring V. P. I. to College Park on May 8. The two other dates on which V. P. I. appears should be scratched.

Two changes also have been made in the track schedule. One brings Hopkins to College Park May 6, and the other lists May 19 and 20 as the correct dates for the Southern Conference meet at Duke University.

FELLOW ALUMNI:

Each year the University looks forward with pride to the occasion when the Alumni gather for their annual reunion on the campus. The Alumni themselves realize that the day is a part of their lives, when old acquaintances are renewed and hands are clasped in friendships enriched by intervening years. This year several classes are having special reunions to commemorate their graduation and strengthen the bonds of friendship. Earnest efforts are being made to have as many present as possible.

Saturday, June 3, is the day of days. The program has been so arranged as to give time for visiting among yourselves as well as the University. Many members of the faculty will enjoy seeing you. Another interesting feature of the reunion this year is that many students will be on the campus, as college work will be continued the week following. Fraternity and sorority houses will be open and will welcome the return of Alumni.

Commencement exercises will be held in the Ritchie Coliseum that day, beginning at 3:30 P. M. Governor Albert C. Ritchie will deliver the principal address.

If it is humanly possible put aside your cares for a day and visit with your old friends. Come—make the day what you will—it is yours.

Cordially yours,

G. F. POLLOCK,
Assistant Secretary.

A Little of Everything In Terp Sport Circles

By W. H. (Bill) HOTTEL

MARYLAND'S track team, which has just finished its regular season, won only two of the four dual meets, but there were lots of bright spots besides the two victories. And the two victims included Hopkins, beaten on Field Day, 71½ to 54½, and Richmond U. was the other. V. M. I., Washington and Lee, Navy and Virginia were the conquerors.

Earl Widmyer, soph sprinter; Bob Sonen, Bob Archer, Warren Evans, Ed Quinn, all whom run anything from the 100 to the 440, Cornelius Cronin, half miler, and Don Ashton, miler, were conspicuous performers.

Widmyer won the 100 and 220 in all the dual meets and was second to Hardy of Cornell in the century in the Penn. relays. In fact, no one really knows who won at Penn, as Widmyer was first announced as the victor, and the change made to Hardy after a long debate.

WHEN this was written the lacrosse team was sailing into the Johns Hopkins game in Baltimore on May 20 with a clean slate with a 7 to 3 triumph over Navy and a 7 to 2 victory over Rutgers as the high lights. Hopkins, as usual, has more man-power and experience than the Old Liners, but despite this, Maryland has won three of the last five games and has not given up the ship by any means.

In fact, despite that the odds have constantly been against them, the Old Liners have won 5 of the 12 battles with the Blue Jays since they have been playing. Hopkins' edge is due to a pair of wins in the Olympic play-off series of 1928 and 1932. In regular season tilts they stand 5-all.

AN hour before this was typed, the Old Line ball team blanked Washington and Lee, 4 to 0, in a game at College Park. It was only the sixth game in 11 the Terps had been able to play, five being rained out. It was only the second win for a high class nine which has been hampered by rain and cold in its preparation. Davidson, a southpaw, checked the Generals completely. And Washington and Lee has one of the best teams in the Southern Conference. Five more tilts were to follow the combat with the Generals.

LIKE the ball team, Maryland's tennis squad has suffered from the rain and the cold. It is the best racket-wielding bunch the Old Liners have had in years, but has captured only two of its first four matches. It has only three more tilts, but bids fair to take them all and finish on the right side of the ledger.

* * *

A COUPLE of freshman timber-toppers,—Bob Slye and Willard Beers,—cracked the 120-yard high hurdle mark for Maryland athletes wide open in a recent meet, the two youths breaking the tape together in 15 3/5 seconds. They completely shattered the record of 16 1/5 seconds held jointly by Ed Pugh and Leroy Sheriff. Clifford Smith, another yearling, ran the 100-yard in 10 seconds in the same meet. Slye and Beers both are capable broad jumpers and the latter can jump around 6 feet.

CONTAINING more stickmen of experience than any freshman lacrosse team in the history of the game at Maryland, the Old Line Cubs were parading an unbeaten path as this was penned. There are several on the squad who should step right into Varsity shoes next spring.

* * *

Late Varsity events listed at College Park are: Baseball—May 22, Western Maryland; May 24-Washington College. Lacrosse—May 27, St. John's. Tennis—May 27, Delaware.

VARSITY GRILL

Emanuel F. Zalesak, '25, former lacrosse star, is now in the restaurant business. He is owner of the Varsity Grill, a popular addition to the restaurant establishments in College Park. The grill is located on the Washington-Baltimore Boulevard, just south of the campus entrance. Ray Schmidt, '33, is the manager.

CO-ED RIFLERS HAVE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The co-ed varsity riflers had a highly successful season. Even though they did not retain the national championship, they won 26 out of 28 matches. The two defeats were lost by a single point to the Universities of Washington and Vermont. The latter was tied 500-500, and a sixth score gave Vermont 600 to 599 for our co-eds. George Washington University, the co-eds' keenest rival, was defeated by a score of 499-495.

Miss Irene Knox, national individual champion last year, was Maryland's leading scorer. Josephine Knox, Betty Owen, and Burna West were also high scorers.

Dinner Given In Honor of Rear-Admiral Rossiter

A dinner in honor of Rear Admiral Percival S. Rossiter, '95, in recognition of his recent appointment as surgeon general of the United States Navy, was give by his fellow alumni of Washington, D. C., and vicinity, on May 3, at the University Club. Wellstood White, '05, president of the Old Line Club presided. Dr. A. W. Valentine, '04, was toastmaster and the Unversity Collegians furnished the music. Several notable officials in public life and leaders in the administration of the University were present. The speakers of the occasion were: Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, president of the University, Dr. J. M. H. Rowland, dean of the Medical School, Dr. A. E. Goldstein, president of the Medical Alumni Association, Dr. Rupert Bleu '92, retired Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health; and H. C. Byrd, vice-president of the University. Admiral Rossiter responded in a most impressive manner.

Among those present were: Dr. T. Taliaferro, John R. Drawbraugh, Maj. L. M. Silvester, G. F. Pollock, Wm. M. Hillegeist, Dr. Leo T. Brown, Dr. E. A. Cafritz, Dr. W. O. Huff, Chauncey Brown, Dr. W. A. Griffith, Dr. N. Sinclair Bourn, A. S. Best, Charles E. Paine, A. S. Brown, Dr. F. B. Bomberger, Dr. A. O. Etienne, J. W. Chambers, H. C. "Curley" Byrd, Dr. Edgar B. Friedenwald, Dr. A. E. FIFTY-YEAR CLUB

Probably the most deserving alumni of an institution are those who have celebrated their fiftieth anniversary of graduation. To properly recognize these individuals, the association is endeavoring to form a Fifty-Year Club, and each year present the new members to the association on Alumni Day.

Those eligible are all former students whose class has celebrated their fiftieth anniversary .

The initial members of the club, to the best of our records, would be as follows: E. S. Walker, '71; H. M. Davis, '74; F. C. Norwood, '74; J. B. Gray, '75; J. F. B. Hyde, '75; Cannon Fletcher, '75; T. H. Thomas, '76; E. O. Emack, '77; W. B. Thomas, '78, and Robert Lee Porter, '82.

It is hoped that many of these will be present for Alumni Day, June 3.

Thursday, June first, will be the closing day of examinations for the Senior Class of 1933, and they have arranged to have a banquet as a farewell party before becoming scattered in the open world. At the request of the Senior Class the Alumni Association will join them in giving the banquet. All members of the association are cordially invited to attend at the per capita cost of $1.-50 per person. Reservations, however, will have to be made in advance through the alumni office not later than May 29. Checks must accompany your request.

CORRECTION

The NEWS wishes to make a correction for an error made in the last issue. In the article about Rear-Admiral Rossiter, a sentence read "that he was made execution officer," it should have read "that he was made executive officer."

SPECIAL CLASS REUNIONS

Usually the most outstanding reunion of all classes is the fiftieth and twenty-fifth anniversaries. The two classes scheduled for this year are 1883 and 1908. In the class of '83 R. B. B. Chew and E. E. Rapley, of Washington, D. C., and R. L. Portner, of Baltimore, are the surviving members. In the class of '08 Charles Sylvester is chairman of the Reunion Committee.

Several other classes will be in the limelight. The thirty-year reunion of '03 is not to be out-done.

E. P. Walls, president, indicates that many members will be present.

Other classes which hope to have many present are: '88, '93, '98, '13, '18, '23 and '28. Special efforts are being made to have these classes well represented. Each member of the class is asked to communicate with the other members urging them to attend.

The class of '92, which has won two places on the cup for the highest percentage of members present on Alumni day, will not be deprived of this honor if possible. Those members who have been present for the past two years say they will be here again. F. W. Besley is president of the class.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

It has been felt advisable that owing to the increasing number of women graduates, they should be given more representation on the Alumni Board. In order to make this possible it will be necessary to increase the size of the board by electing some members at large, as all schools are now represented. It is, therefore, proposed that the Alumni Board be increased from five to seven members, by electing one woman graduate and one man graduate at large. There will then be two women and five men on the Board.

The constitutional amendment will be presented at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association June 3.
